Business protection, credit reporting and collections. That's the business of the Credit Bureau of Southern Orange County, operated by the Business Men's association of Santa Ana, Inc. I understand the inc. part of it, but I don't spell it that way. However, regardless of my opinion, the organization has been functioning for a number of years advantageously to the business interests of this city, and at the annual meeting and banquet, to be held next Monday evening, the officials will tell you about it.

I have a relative out here spending the winter. She did the same thing last winter. She has here in time to go through the snows and freeze. Came back and got into the flood. She had been through the Iroquois fire. So I suggested if she would stay through the year we might be able to furnish an earthquake. There's isn't any use missing anything.

Lost our neighbor. The chamber of commerce moved out of the old location and into the new one. Permanent headquarters on Church street. I do not know whether the religious name of the street had anything to do with it or not, but I seemed to get along all right with 'em while on Fifth.

During the height of the storm whenever I passed the Ramona building, where the "Assistance League" sign was displayed in the second story window, I couldn't help but wonder how soon I might need help.

Rancher, reporting on flood conditions, said the water was a little too thick to drink and too thin to plow.

Thursday was ushered in with the weather prediction that another storm would break, in which event I could see that the "Spring" day would be de-voted to hostesses and cellophane coats.

Copies of the flood edition of The Santa Ana Journal have been mailed to all parts of the world. A representative of the Socony Oil Co. at Cairo, Egypt, will get one. California does not intend to yield all of the flood reputation to the Nile, which for ages has been overflowing its banks at seasonal (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

5000 HOMES DAMAGED BY DELUGE

Agency Feeding 975 Refugees Daily

The dollars you give to the Red Cross allay misery for more than 3000 Orange county families. At least 2300 of these have no resources of their own, and no chance of rehabilitation save through a relief agency such as the Red Cross.

Reports of A. L. Schafer, coast manager for the National Red Cross, on conditions in the county, resulted today in redoubled efforts. It revealed appalling conditions in the aftermath of last Thursday's disaster.

Two hundred and 25 homes were destroyed.

Fifteen barns, including livestock, were destroyed.

Four hundred other buildings were destroyed.

More than 5000 homes were damaged by flood waters.

A total of 125 barns were damaged by water.

Five hundred buildings of other types were damaged.

The Red Cross today is supplying three meals a day to 975 refugees, most of them in the northern end of the county.

It has paid for burial services for several others.

EL DON WINS NEW LAURELS

El Don, weekly newspaper at Santa Ana Junior college, received new recognition today when the Columbia University Scholastic Press association awarded the Santa Ana paper first place among all papers of its class in the country.

The award was based on issues of El Don published between September and Feb. 15, and included those edited by both Vic Rowland, autumn editor, and Ed Velarde, present chief of the publication. El Don received a similar award in last year's Columbia university contest.

Other nearby junior colleges named by the association are the Los Angeles J. C. Collegian, which received the highest award of medalist among junior college newspapers, and the Chaffey Junior College United Press, Ontario, the Compton Tartar Shield and the Long Beach Viking, first place in their enrollment classifications.

L. A. HARBOR CRISIS NEAR

SAN PEDRO, (P)—Tie-up of Los Angeles harbor at 1 p. m. appeared certain today as a dispute between dock workers and the Waterfront Employers' association developed into a major crisis. Both longshoremen and carloaders, member groups in the International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's union, voted not to accede to employers' demands.

Unless either one of the union units returns to work by 10 o'clock this morning, the employers' association flatly announced, relations will be severed and the harbor closed down by 1 p. m.

Crux of the dispute was whether longshoremen should handle cargoes under certain conditions which an arbitration ruling in February, 1935, held would neces-

Keep Right On Pouring It In

Contributions in the Santa Ana Red Cross drive today passed the $7000 mark, Treasurer T. E. Stephenson reported at noon. Santa Ana district's goal is $25,000 out of the county total of $92,500. The territory includes Santa Ana, and towns from Garden Grove south to San Clemente.

$25,000,000 AID PROMISE

McAdoo Acts to Get Federal Money

Twenty-five million dollars in WPA aid for Southern California's flood area may be authorized under a joint resolution introduced in the senate yesterday by Senator W. G. McAdoo. Relief of persons in flood-stricken areas, reconstruction of public works and removal of debris on public and private property are provided for in the resolution. McAdoo notified Supervisor Harry Riley of the action and asked that he convey the information to the mayors of Orange county cities who signed the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

INCOME TAX DEADLINE NEAR

Next Tuesday is the final day for payment of federal income taxes. For the convenience of Orange county residents the Bureau of Internal Revenue office in the second floor of the Santa Ana postoffice will remain open until 4 o'clock next Saturday afternoon and till 9:30 p. m. on the final day.

Four deputy collectors from Los Angeles are engaged at the office here in assisting persons with filing their returns for 1937.

Pleads Guilty To Girl Charge

Ray Payne, Stanton oil worker, pleaded guilty today to a crime against a 15-year-old Fullerton girl and will have a probation hearing March 18.

Payne originally faced five counts of contributing to the delinquency of minor girls, but a preliminary hearing in Fullerton yesterday resulted in a motion by Deputy Dist. Atty. Robert Gardner to dismiss three counts; and Payne pleaded guilty to one today through his attorney, Adrian Marks.

FDR Calls For Nationwide Round-Up For Human Needs

WASHINGTON, (P)—President Roosevelt called for a nationwide mobilization for human needs today, as federal economists estimated the recession had taken a toll of 4,300,000 jobs in the last four months, bringing the nation's unemployed to a total of approximately 10,500,000.

That total, based on revision of figures prepared for the President's committee on economic security, is the highest in three years. The peak of unemployment was 15,000,000 in March, 1933.

The President, opening the nation's annual community chest campaign, declared that "only in

EX-COUNTY OFFICIAL IN U. S. DRAGNET

Lewd Pictures Work Of L. S. Ross, Charge

The federal government's long arm had reached again into Orange county today to prosecute a second public employee.

L. E. Ross, elderly, bushy-haired former official reporter in superior court, for 10 years state registrar of vital statistics and former U. S. marshal in Texas, faces trial in federal court in Los Angeles next week.

He is accused of being the center of a nationwide ring distributing obscene pictures. Prosecutors said today Ross made the drawings, then sent them to others for photographing and distribution.

Ross has been under indictment by the federal grand jury since Jan. 5 and is free on bail. Trial is set for Federal Judge James' court next Thursday.

The local man's arrest became known only this week, after Fresno deputy sheriffs and postal inspectors arrested Otto B. Hertwig, 51-year-old Redkey harness maker, to whom Ross assertedly sent the drawings he made.

Ross is charged specifically with sending obscene and lascivious matter through the mails. If convicted, he faces a $5000 fine or five years in federal prison, or both.

His indictment came at approximately the same time as that of Police Chief Floyd Howard of Santa Ana, who faces trial March 22.

Hertwig's arrest, through which Ross' indictment first became known here, was accompanied by seizure of 5000 feet of pornographic motion pictures, 60 photographs of nude women and scores of lewd drawings.

Funniest Pair

Charlie McCarthy, wise-cracking dummy, was the recipient of a wooden "Oscar" at last night's annual Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, but Edgar Bergen, Charlie's vocal master, accepted for him. Charlie stayed home last night, while Hollywood dined de-luxe.

HOLLYWOOD, (P)—Spencer Tracy, a likeable mug from Milwaukee, and Luise Rainer, a shy Austrian brunette, were hailed today as the No. 1 stars of the 1937 film year.

Seventeen gold statuettes, the "Oscars" symbolic of outstanding achievement in the industry, were passed out last night by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. And the two that counted most—for the best acting—went to Tracy and Rainer.

Recovering at a hospital from an operation, Tracy got the news from his wife that his characterization of a Portuguese sailor in (Continued on Page 3, Col. 8)

Germans Invade Austria; Crisis

BRITAIN ASKS MILDLY FOR 'HANDS OFF'

Movement of Troops By F. L. Alarms

LONDON, (P)—Britain today gave a mild, carefully phrased warning to Germany against military interference in Austria's Sunday plebiscite on independence.

Official British sources said reports had been received of "certain movements of troops in Bavaria" and that Britain had expressed to Germany the hope that the purpose of such movements was to preserve order on the Austro-German frontier.

Officials declined to say specifically to whom this view was expressed, but it was believed that it had been presented unmistakably to Joachim von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, by foreign secretary Viscount Halifax (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

CHURCH JOINS SLUM BATTLE

Chamber of commerce and church joined in a battle for slum elimination and modern, model housing for Mexicans in Fullerton districts today, as an aftermath of last week's flood.

The Fullerton Chamber of Commerce, women of the forum of the Fullerton Presbyterian church, and the council of the North Orange county Y. W. C. A. went on record this week for cooperation in such a movement.

The Y. W. C. A. group addressed letters to the Red Cross and board of supervisors urging concerted action to provide safe housing and proper sanitary conditions in the rehabilitation of flood areas. The chamber will name a committee to coordinate efforts of other groups to secure such a program.

Listed as "urgent" on the calendar of the current special session of the state legislature is a proposed state enabling act to provide federal model-housing funds for such projects, under the Wagner-Steagall act.

Check Writer Gets Probation

David A. Simmons, 28, who admitted writing about $500 worth of bad checks in Southern California and whose record showed five sex crime charges since 1932, was granted five years' probation today by Presiding Superior Judge James L. Allen.

Simmons was sent to jail until he makes restitution on the checks. Pleas for leniency came to the probation office on Simmons' behalf from Texas and Oklahoma notables, including W. N. Stokes, associate justice of the Texas court of civil appeals.

Father Admits He Lashed Daughter

EL MONTE, Calif. (P)—Pleading guilty to lashing his daughter, Gloria, 16, with a seven foot whip because she "ditched" classes last Tuesday, Henry F. Goates, 42, laborer, awaited sentence in justice of the peace court today.

Homer J. Daniels, investigator for the state commission for the protection of children and animals, swore out the complaint against Goates, charging he had punished the girl inhumanly, breaking her flesh with the whip and raising welts on her body.

"I hope he gets punished for it," said Gloria. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Austria's Bitter Political Strife Counts Two Dead

VIENNA, (P)—One Nazi and Fatherland Front member died today, victims of Austria's bitter political strife, which increased in intensity as Sunday's independence plebiscite neared.

The Nazi, stabbed last night in a minor Nazi-Fatherland Front affair in Florisdorf, a workers' suburb of Vienna, succumbed this morning.

Hans Lalitsch, 25-year-old teacher and supporter of Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg, died of injuries received last week in a political attack on his school.

Disorders spread through the Austrian provinces, while in Vienna the war ministry ordered mobilization of 100,000 troops of the reserve, called 30,000 national guardsmen to immediate duty and strengthened the b-dyguard around Chancellor Schuschnigg because of Nazi threats against his life.

Concentration of Austrian military strength continued in Vienna, Innsbruck, Graz and Salzburg during the afternoon.

Arthur Seyss-Inquart, the Hitler approved Austrian minister of the interior, conferred at length with Chancellor Schuschnigg.

MAN'S BURNS PROVE FATAL

First, second and third degree burns that covered 90 per cent of his body proved fatal to Lewis Barnes, 25, route 4, box 103, Anaheim, last night after he had waged a futile 24-hour fight for his life.

The Anaheim man sustained the fatal burns Wednesday evening when the pilot light of a water heater ignited gasoline and grease on his arms as he was preparing to take a shower after greasing his car.

Rushed to Orange county hospital, Barnes gradually became weaker and finally succumbed to the burns at 9 p. m. yesterday. His body was taken to Hilgenfeld funeral parlor in Anaheim, where funeral and inquest plans are pending.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Barnes, Fullerton; a brother, Marvin, Fullerton; three sisters, Mrs. Lawrence Pitre, Louisiana, and the Misses Vesta M. and Vela M. Barnes of Anaheim, and two grandmothers.

1ST AND MAIN CORNER SOLD

Sale of property on the north-west corner of First and Main streets to Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Dunning for a reported price of $42,000 was consummated today.

Superior Judge G. K. Scovel approved sale of the three lots, with a frontage of 150 feet on Main street, for $34,000. It was understood the whole transaction involved $42,000. The property was sold by Louis B. Ott as executor of the estate of Andrew B. Swartzel, who died here in 1932.

Dunning, prominent Orange county rancher for many years, said he had no immediate plans for building. A service station and tire retreading establishment now occupy the property.

PEGLER'S LOOSE IN L. A.

That vitriolic columnist is now writing his scorching stuff less than 40 miles airline from Santa Ana. He's turning the typewriter loose today on the rich Hollywood screen writers. Read about the wealthy scrawlers who drag down $1500 to $2000 a week yelling their heads off for unionization. Read Westbrook Pegler daily on the editorial page of The Journal—that interesting newspaper.

SCHUSCHNIGG IN GOOD-BYE TO AUSTRIA

No Resistance Is Offered to Invasion

VIENNA, (P)—The government announced tonight that the plebiscite on Austria's independence had been postponed.

PARIS, (P)—High officials of the foreign office declared today that Italy had refused to join France and Britain in "any action whatsoever" to defend Austrian independence.

VIENNA, (P)—The Austrian government press bureau announced tonight that German troops had crossed the Austrian border at Passau.

Austrian troops were ordered to fall back without resistance.

A high official said that the resignation of Chancellor Kurt (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

MAYOR HURLS HAT IN RING

Sailing into the county political ring today came the broad-brimmed sombrero of Mayor Willis Warner of Huntington Beach—running for supervisor from the second district.

Warner announced yesterday he would not be a candidate for reelection to the oil city council, but would concentrate on the county race.

Mitchell, former chairman of the board, has announced several times he would not be a candidate for election, but his friends insist the veteran lawmaker will be in the race, regardless.

Warner has been a hardware merchant in the beach city since 1925. He has served on the council for four years, and is chairman of the Orange County Water district. He has served on boards of directors of a number of civic organizations, is a church trustee, and belongs to the Windsor club, Masonic lodge and Odd Fellows.

TOM MOONEY'S DRAMATIC FIGHT FOR LEGISLATIVE PARDON FAILS

BULLETIN

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—The California assembly voted today to grant the request of Captain Charles Goff of the San Francisco police department for a personal hearing to refute statements made yesterday by Tom Mooney on behalf of his appeal for a pardon.

SKINNY SKRIBBLES

periods. Imagine the recipient of The Journal lying in the shadows of the tomb of old Cheops reading about the California floods.

"Wally" Wallace comes to us from San Bernardino where the Cajon Pass chokes up when there is too much rain. He has something to do with refrigeration, a system where you get ice in the summer and winter, and any time says it's good to mix with other things. He is manager for the Wm. Eaves Co. Arriving recently I am to find out if he came down to us with the flood or in advance of it.

Some one, or organization, might place a temporary sign at Orana, indicating the location of Santa Ana, and leave it there until the Santa Ana Boulevard highway is usable.

And then there are times when organizations hold so many conferences taking up each other's time that the production departments suffer. Anyway, everybody goes back to his respective place and does about the same as he did before the conference was held. This paragraph may be popular, but I don't believe it.

I'm in favor of "big storms" like we had Thursday. Send more of that kind and fewer of the other. Guess that Leonard Hurst will credit my score for veracity. Told him Wednesday I would detour the rain. So again. Now what?

The height of perspicacity: Blowing the horn for the man ahead of you to keep going when the signals are set against him.

"Say, Hercules," says a fellow who insists he is a friend of mine, "if you can write two columns in one day I'll take you to the Santa Anita races." What I can't understand is why do they expect so much from such a small source?

And it was pay day, with one employee having in his possession five cents, and then Joe Kelley wanted to know where I got it.

You can cross the intersection when the first bell rings if you want to, but it is an incorrect motivation. Cars are still within the intersection and unless the drivers are careful you might get hit. If you get hit hard enough it won't make any difference.

That ocean storm some 900 miles out is still out, and it can stay out so far as I am concerned. I am not one of those cold shower boys, and of water, well for the present I have had enough.

The Santa Anita racing season is drawing to a close, and in sympathetic accord a few check books will end the season nodding assent.

Bill Doyle, who does some auditing for the Santa Fe, was in town Thursday morning, arriving just in time to miss the Breakfast club and save Clara. Lindsay fifty cents. He came in from Los Angeles where they had some rain, to see some more. Then he wanted to know if Lindsay's car was running between Santa Ana and San Clemente. It was. So is the railroad. So what?

I have put Earl Morrow in the Ananias column. He came in Wednesday to tell me that all of the hostesses for "Swing Into Spring" were going to wear iron corsets. I consumed most of the day proving that Earl was mistaken.

Nora Flagg, sparring partner of A. G. Flagg, was hostess for the Ebell club at The Journal office for "Swing Into Spring" day. I was inclined to appeal to the society editor for some feminine comment apropos to her social function for this newspaper, but re-learned for fear of such a scintillating comment from the a. e. that my addicts would detect it was a contribution. Therefore, my decorum was perfect, but it did interfere with my usual system of social approach.

Back of all this applause for executive ingenuity during the flood period, let us not lose sight of the man in the ranks who comes across with the contributions, small or large, which is the foundation for all rehabilitation. I am not trying to take any credit away from anyone, but I am trying to give credit where it seldom goes. To just plain, ordinary citizens.

Giving the classified columns the run-around, I herewith solicit, beg, borrow, or might steal if I hadn't been taught that it wasn't right to do so—a shamrock for March 17, St. Patrick's day.

My informant who slipped a message into my right ear said he had been all over the county talking to ranchers and was unable to find a single request for irrigation.

MEASLES ON UPURN
WASHINGTON, (AP)—Surgeon General Thomas Parran announced that 38,903 cases of measles were reported in the week ended Feb. 28. This was 4200 more than in the preceding week and 2200 more than the highest week in the ten years of records kept by the U. S. public health service.

Mrs. Zinn Gets 4 Months in Jail

Mrs. Bertha Zinn, former stenographer for an Anaheim law firm, was sentenced to four months in jail today for pilfering $235 from her employers, Thomas L. McFadden and George Holden.

Mrs. Zinn, however, will serve only one month, since she has been in jail approximately three months. She was convicted Feb. 9 by a superior court jury of grand theft. Her jail sentence was imposed as one of the terms of three years' probation.

BRITAIN ASKS 'HANDS OFF'

and Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain.

Von Ribbentrop on whose two-day visit to London hopes of better Anglo-German understanding had been based, ended his stand of functions here with such understanding further off than ever and Europe's peace endangered.

Watchful detachments of mounted and foot police stood by as the top-hatted Ribbentrop drove through the gates of Buckingham palace in a Swastika-begged motor car for his farewell audience with King George. It was this farewell—Von Ribbentrop is the retiring Nazi ambassador to London—that was the ostensible reason for his visit.

There were no repetitions of yesterday's hostile demonstrations against the German outside the foreign office, when crowds yelled, "Get out, Ribbentrop!"

GET TOGETHER LUNCHEON
Frau Ribbentrop accompanied her husband to the audience. Later they lunched at Downing street, the Prime Minister's residence, with Chamberlain, Lord Halifax, other members of the cabinet and their wives.

Britain's hopes that Germany would not interfere with disturbed conditions in Austria during Sunday's plebiscite on independence of Nazis were shaken by the outcome of yesterday's conference between Lord Halifax and Ribbentrop.

The German representative was reliably reported to have refused to commit himself to any statement of non-interference in Austria.

Britain's hopes were further shattered by strong indications of a belligerent attitude in Berlin toward Chancellor Schuschnigg of Austria, who called the plebiscite.

HITLER BUSY
Chancellor Hitler was busy in Berlin conferring with his associates on the Austrian situation and was reported to be in touch with Rome.

Nazis said their partisans would ignore the Austrian voting, and leave it to Schuschnigg to determine if Austria were to be "made over" peacefully or by bloodshed. At the same time, however, they insisted Germany would not interfere by force.

Pending the outcome of the vote Sunday, the progress of Anglo-Italian negotiations in Rome and the settlement of the political upheaval in France, Britain's attitude toward talks on a settlement with Germany appeared to be "some other time."

Rome, too, adopted an attitude of watchful waiting while Austria seethed. The controlled Fascist press was without comment, respecting the government's delicate role of protector of Austrian independence and friend of Nazi Germany.

CHLORINE FOR VEGETABLES

Certain vegetables raised near the banks of the Santa Ana river must be washed in chlorine rinse before going to market by order of the Orange county health department.

This measure is being taken to protect the public from eating vegetables washed by the germ-ridden river. It applies mainly to those foods eaten raw such as celery and lettuce.

SCHUSCHNIGG SAYS GOODBYE

Schuschnigg was expected. The official declared that the next Austrian government would be completely satisfactory to Germany. He added it was possible Schuschnigg would be retained in some capacity.

Schuschnigg announced by radio that Germany had presented an ultimatum with a time limit demanding the reorganization of the Austrian government.

Austria, said Schuschnigg, had yielded to Germany's demands and "the object is to prevent the spilling of German blood."

The chancellor said the ultimatum had been presented to President Wilhelm Miklas, and that the president thereupon had conferred with army officers.

At the end of his short announcement Schuschnigg said: "I say goodbye with the wish that God protect Austria."

It was not known immediately whether the "goodbye" meant his resignation.

Arthur Seyss-Inquart, the Hitler-approved minister of the interior, in a radio broadcast asked that there be no resistance to the German troops coming in. He urged Austrian Nazis to maintain strict discipline.

At the chancellery it was said that the government was being reorganized and that a new cabinet list would be announced shortly.

ROME, (AP)—Italy scrupulously held aloof today from turbulent Austria's affairs, torn between her policy of preservation of Austrian independence and her close alliance with Germany.

PARIS SEES GRAVE SITUATION IN EUROPE
PARIS, (AP)—Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos today called in the German ambassador, Count Johannes von Weizsaeck, and directed his attention to what was officially described as "the grave European situation brought on by concentration of German assault units on the Austrian border."

Official spokesmen made no attempt to hide their concern over the turn of events in central Europe which heightened anxiety over delays in the formation of a new French cabinet, attempted by Leon Blum, the Socialist leader.

After the German envoy's visit, the Austrian minister, Alois Vullgruber, called at the foreign office.

ABLE-BODIED MEN BEING CALLED TO NAZI COLORS
MUNICH—Evidences of mobilization in Germany were the following:

1. Able-bodied men were being called to the colors and their private cars commandeered.

2. Municipal buses and private trucks were requisitioned.

3. Owners were frankly told these vehicles would be used on the Austrian border.

Rumors circulated that Czech-

King George Rides High in Old One

COVENTRY, Eng. (AP)—"Whoops!" said the king. "We're off!"

And King George and Lord Swinton rolled away in an 1899 automobile—the first royal automobile, made for Edward VII, a six horsepower job.

The ride was part of the King's factory tour.

NYA SALVAGING HOSPITAL FILE

Seven young men and five women from two NYA projects were hard at work in the basement of the county hospital today attempting to salvage several thousand case records partially or totally destroyed by the flood.

More than 1000 of the records were totally destroyed, according to Dr. Harry E. Zaiser, hospital superintendent, while many other records were virtually ruined. The NYA crew will finish its task of retyping and rebinding the records within a week.

L. A. Loss Set At 44 Million

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—The official report of the Insurance Underwriters of Southern California estimated today property loss from last week's flood in the Los Angeles metropolitan area alone amounted to in excess of $44,500,000.

The report stated the damage, covered in many cases by insurance, was mainly to homes, personal property and automobiles.

Slovakians were moving over the Austrian border to vote in Sunday's plebiscite for independence and that France also was supporting the anti-Nazi Austrians.

There was known to be a large concentration of troops near Sternberg, 20 miles south of Munich, along one of the main roads into Austria.

Regular army units and brown-shirted S. A. and black-shirted S. S. (Nazi guard units) were moving toward Freising, near Salzburg, Garmisch and Poeschen.

Roads out of Munich were controlled.

Trains to the south were still running "for the time being," as railway authorities put it.

The Austrian consul at Munich departed, traveling toward Vienna by automobile early this morning.

Amid rumors that "something was about to happen," military patrols visited beer cellars and cafes, in one case interrupting a circus performance, to call out all uniformed men.

Many able-bodied men driving private automobiles were commandeered, along with their cars. Inquiry at military headquarters brought the reply "merely rather extensive maneuvers."

FDR URGES MORE HELP

human misfortune—adjusting mal-adjusted families, taking care of the sick, tiding over crises in family life."

Work relief, a federal task to which he said he was definitely committed, is designed to provide jobs for "normal people who can give useful work to the country, and seeking adjustment of a maladjusted society rather than of maladjusted individuals."

The importance of these employable millions may be more fully understood, perhaps, Mr. Roosevelt said, "when it is realized that approximately one-third of them are under 25 years of age and will be either assets or liabilities for many years to come, depending upon public policies toward them."

"If we do not give them a chance at something like normal living, it is inevitable that they will become millions of individual problems. For these able-bodied unemployed, I am definitely committed to the giving of jobs instead of relief."

The President said it was true that the "national economy does not today permit the federal government to give useful work to all the employable needy unemployed, but the federal government is doing so in the great majority of cases."

The able-bodied unemployed "need work and should have it," he continued, adding:

"But equally the economic system needs that they should have it. A federal works program not only serves the unemployed, it saves the job of those who have jobs."

"Our industrial production cannot progress, as it must, unless our masses have income with which to buy its products."

Noting that this was the 25th anniversary of the establishment of community chests and councils, Mr. Roosevelt said he hoped the organization would widen its appeal "until every citizen with a competence—great or little—extends the helping hand to his less favored brother."

"Here is a work in which diverse creeds and classes can unite for the common good. Let us strive to bring into every community practical exemplification of the ideal of being a good neighbor. In that spirit I appeal to the American people to present a united front in the 1938 mobilization for human needs."

McAdoo's telegram to Riley follows:

"I have today introduced in senate joint resolution authorizing $25,000,000 Works Progress administration aid for:

"1. Relief of persons in flood-stricken areas.

"2. Repair and reconstruction of essential public works in such areas damaged or destroyed by floods; and,

"3. Removal of debris deposited by floods on public and private property."

"I shall press for prompt consideration of this measure. Meanwhile, Col. Donald Connolly, Los Angeles district WPA director, will render every assistance possible."

S. A. BOY WINS AIR BILLET

Herbert F. Towner of Santa Ana, son of Mrs. C. C. Ream, 1138 West Fifth street, today received a war department appointment to Randolph Field air corps training school, Texas.

Towner, who is a private in the 97th observation corps, stationed at Mitchell Field, Long Island, N. Y., graduated from the Santa Ana High school in 1935. He attended the University of Oregon for two years, where he was a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

He is one of a class of 300 chosen for Randolph in recent tests conducted on the Mitchell air base.

RED CROSS NEED VITAL

asked that "every effort" be made to complete Santa Ana's quota of $25,000 in record time.

It was announced at Red Cross headquarters that Tustin had exceeded its quota of $1000 by $11.15, and was well on the way toward its second $1000. The campaign drive is directed by Mrs. Lewis Riehl, Mrs. W. S. Leinberger and Mrs. Enid Wilson.

Reports from state offices of the Red Cross, is San Francisco, said that 15,000 persons had been sheltered, fed and clothed during the "emergency stages" of the disaster and that 5322 homes in the five counties hit were destroyed.

Contributions to the funds campaign are being received here at each of the city's banks, Red Cross headquarters in the Ramona building, the two newspapers, and at the county treasurer's office.

DESPITE the breaking by flood waters of many of the principal supply pipe lines bringing natural gas in from San Joaquin Valley and Ventura, despite destruction of roads and communications and complete isolation of parts of our gas distribution system, our organization was able to maintain continuous service to more than 95% of all our customers.

Appreciative of the assistance from public agencies, private organizations and others which aided us in maintaining gas service throughout the emergency created by last week's flood, officers and employees of Southern Counties Gas Company choose this means to express a word of thanks.

Particularly do we thank city and county officials, members of the police and fire departments, and members of the highway patrols who aided us in reaching broken supply lines and service facilities.

We are equally indebted to those newspapers, radio stations, amateur short-wave radio operators and communication company workers, who rendered invaluable service in correcting false rumors with accurate information.

To the members of our own organization a word of praise is offered.

The general public, unfamiliar with problems encountered in maintaining gas service under conditions such as existed for some days last week, can have little conception of the magnitude of the job our people successfully accomplished.

Swimming rivers, picking their way through broken roads and heaped debris—working in mud and rain, hour after hour in daylight and dark, they kept a single purpose before them—maintaining your gas service.

F. S. WADE, President and General Manager
SOUTHERN COUNTIES GAS COMPANY

HONEYMOONERS KILLED IN HEADON HIGHWAY CRASH

COUNTY TRAFFIC TOLL BOOSTED TO 20 DEATHS

Two Married Less Than Two Weeks

A headon crash that bounced their light car nearly 50 yards back down the highway yesterday brought to a tragic end the honeymoon of a young San Diego couple to a tragic climax.

ONE MORE FOR ME

Benny Trinca, 23, San Diego newspaper distributor, and Angelina Trinca, 20, his bride of less than two weeks, were en route to their home at 2210 Union street, San Diego, when their car reportedly swerved to the left side of highway 101 two miles south of Irvine and crashed into a truck.

Killed instantly and her husband died on the way to a hospital.

Roy Gordon of Long Beach, driver of the truck which was heading north with a load of tuna, told California highway patrolmen the Trinca car swerved in front of his truck, suddenly and apparently without reason.

He said he crowded the truck as far to the right as he could but that he could not avoid the approaching car. The impact pushed the Trinca machine back 128 feet, highway patrolmen claimed.

The young couple was married Feb. 27 and had been honeymooning in northern California. The fatal accident, which boosted the ominous toll of Orange county traffic deaths to 26 since Jan. 1, occurred shortly before 4 p. m.

The bodies were brought to Brown and Wagner mortuary in Santa Ana, where inquest plans are pending.

Far East to Be Topic for Adults

In the third of a series of discussions on the Far East, Dr. Claude A. Buss will tell of the political and economic reasons why Russia, Germany, Italy, France and Great Britain are turning their attention to the affairs of Japan and China.

The talk is slated Monday evening in the Spurgeon school auditorium under auspices of the adult education division.

Dr. Buss, professor at the University of Southern California, was in the Far East shortly after opening of hostilities in the capacity of a newspaper correspondent.

Russian to Be Calvary Speaker

Peter Voronoff, 22-year-old son of a Russian minister, will speak in Santa Ana at the Calvary church, Ebell auditorium, at 7 p. m. Sunday.

He will depict his experiences in Soviet Russia, as son of a missionary. His parents now are exiles in Siberia. The address will be illustrated with stereoscopic slides brought here from Russia.

MICHIGAN PICNIC

Former residents of Michigan will hold their annual picnic reunion a week from tomorrow in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles.

Dr. E. E. Haring, president of the Michigan association of Southern California, will be in charge. Hot coffee and souvenir badges will be provided. Registration is being conducted at Hotel Stowell, Los Angeles.

WAFLE BREAKFAST

ROOF COMPANY WINNER IN SUIT

The Kelly Roofing company was winner today of a $110.99 judgment, and Louis and Jim Musacoy of Los Angeles had lost their $12,000 cross complaint for damages from an auto accident last year.

Franklin West and Charles D. Swanner, Santa Ana attorneys for the roofing company, were victorious in several verbal battles with S. S. Mahan, Hollywood motion-picture colony attorney, who represented the Musacoy.

Presiding Superior Judge James L. Allen awarded the Kelly firm the judgment yesterday afternoon.

Red Cross Sends Thanks to Sheriff

Citing the efficiency of relief coordination and communication during the flood, the Orange county Red Cross today had sent a letter of appreciation to Sheriff Logan Jackson and his staff.

The letter particularly mentioned Fred Wilbur, coordinator of the proposed major disaster commission, Dana Lamb for rescue work during the flood, and the police staff of Bud White-man, Ed Heffner, Paul Moses and Leslie Ginnell.

The letter came from M. B. Wellington, chairman of the Red Cross major disaster committee.

Ranchers Study Soil Saving

More than two dozen ranchers left Tustin early this morning as guests of the U. S. Soil Conservation service to tour the El Toro and Orange Park areas regions where they viewed the work of the federal government in saving farmland from the ravages of the recent flood.

At noon the group ate dinner at El Toro CCC camp and this afternoon were joined by other ranchers who attended a meeting in which talks on soil conservation were presented.

IMMIGRANT ARRESTS
Rosario L. Avila, 19, Cecilio Machado, 18, and a 17-year-old juvenile, all of Tijuana, were arrested yesterday on charges of illegally entering the United States. They were booked in Orange county jail where they will await a federal deportation hearing.

Result of the probe, which was carried on for a month after Mulherron left his office here, were sent to the headquarters at Washington several weeks ago, and nothing further has been heard of the report, according to the Los Angeles office.

The Los Angeles office of the WPA is awaiting return of recommendations from Washington, D. C., as to what will be done with the findings of two special investigators into charges preferred against Dan Mulherron.

Result of the probe, which was carried on for a month after Mulherron left his office here, were sent to the headquarters at Washington several weeks ago, and nothing further has been heard of the report, according to the Los Angeles office.

Movies You Can Safely See Listed By Church Women

Mrs. James L. Allen on behalf of the National Council of Federated Church Women of Southern California has released a list of inspected movies for the month of March.

Four outstanding pictures are listed first. They are "Adventures of Tom Sawyer," "Goldwyn Follies," "Gold Is Where You Find It" and "I'll Take Romance." A travel picture, "African Holiday" is also recommended.

Pictures suitable for the family to attend are "Bringing Up Baby," "Everybody Sing," "Of Human Hearts," "Radio City Revels," "Cassidy of Bar 20" and "Forbidden Valley."

A list of pictures for mature audiences is "Love, Honor and Believe," "Yank at Oxford," "Arsene Lupin Returns," "International Settlement," "The Baroness and the Butler," "She Married an Artist" and "Walking Down Broadway."

Classified as mediocre are "Night Spot," "The Big Broadcast of 1938," "Scandal Street," and "Midnight Intruder," while "A Slight Case of Murder" is rated as a waste of time.

The award for the best picture of 1937, as determined by a poll of 15,000 film workers including extras, went to Warner Brothers' "The Life of Emile Zola."

Two awards for the best supporting performances were given Joseph Schildkraut, the martyred Captain Dreyfus of "Zola," and Alice Brady, the heroic mother of "In Old Chicago." A broken ankle kept Miss Brady at home last night.

Even Charlie McCarthy, the wooden wisecracker, was remembered as star-chirped notable distributed the awards in a crowded hotel dance room and 1300 guests, who'd paid $25 a plate, applauded continually.

Red Cross Areas Join in Fund Drive

Anaheim and Fullerton Red Cross districts will join for a benefit dance to raise funds for flood sufferers, it was announced today, with the affair to be held tomorrow evening in the Elks' clubhouse, Anaheim.

The Elks have donated the dance hall and Lee Mann and his Sunday Californians will furnish music, it was announced. All funds collected will be used for rehabilitation work, it was promised.

BURGLAR GUILTY

Irvin L. Laughlin pleaded guilty today to charges of burglary during the transfer company's filing cabinet, and will have probation hearing before Presiding Superior Judge James L. Allen March 18.

TRAFFIC FINES

One speeding fine and five for overtime parking were only traffic business in Santa Ana city court yesterday. Leonard Ward, Santa Ana, paid $4 for four of the parking tags, and Don Halomore, Inglewood, was charged $8 for speeding.

WELL BLOWS IN BAKERSFIELD

Oil company's Wagner No. 1 well near Rio Bravo blew in yesterday, producing 38 gravity oil at the rate of 800 barrels a day and 1,500,000 cubic feet of gas under 2000 pounds pressure, at a depth of 11,265 feet, the company said.

Probation Hearing Forced on Culprit

William L. Waite, accused of felony drunk driving after his car assertedly struck another auto in Santa Ana canyon Feb. 28 and injured two persons, didn't want to ask for probation.

But Presiding Superior Judge James L. Allen ordered an application filed today, saying "I want to get all the facts." Waite pleaded guilty to the charge, filed after Hugh and Emma Claypool were seriously injured in the crash.

JOHN HOPKINS EXPERTS CLAIM YOUTH FINDER

BALTIMORE, (AP)—A year's clinical testing of a chemical compound called testosterone has proven to two Johns Hopkins hospital physicians that men can be made young again.

Results of the effects of the rejuvenating fluid had on 17 patients were described to a meeting of the medical and surgical faculty by Dr. Samuel A. Vest and his collaborator, Dr. John Eager Howard.

The physicians reported after careful study of the patients treated with the drug that they had seen beards take on new growth, dry skin become oily and ruddy and voices deepen. In some cases, they said, normal male faculties were rejuvenated.

The rejuvenating fluid, first made in Switzerland two years ago, is a synthetic male sex hormone (a chemical product of an organ that activates another organ through the blood stream).

To maintain the effects of the rejuvenator, patients must continue using the compound, the physicians said, since the body quickly uses up the synthetic hormone. The compound was described as much more effective than transplanted glands.

Huge Baby Wins Back Job for Dad In Auto Plant

DETROIT, (AP)—A perceptible loss in weight by three-day-old Donald Lawler bothered his parents.

"We're worried," said the father, John C. Lawler. "There have been so many visitors. He's still husky, but he's got a lot of wrinkles in him now."

Controversy raged over the 19 pounds claimed for Donald at birth on the basis of his first weighing on a farm poultry scale.

Yesterday Dr. Carl S. Ratigan, who delivered Donald, weighed him on his spring baby scales and announced his weight at 18 pounds. A few hours later a receiving hospital nurse weighed Donald and said his weight was slightly more than 18 pounds.

Interest aroused in the baby got Papa Lawler back his job at the automobile factory where he was laid off last December.

Footprints Mark Way to Hell

BATH, N. C. (AP)—Science has tried to find a different explanation but many folks here think eight shallow pits in the soft earth just off the main highway are 100-year-old hoofprints of the "man on his way to hell."

An old legend says that more than a century ago a country gentleman and madcap companions in this oldest North Carolina town were given to horse racing on Sunday and one day the gentleman, galloping down the lane, shouted to his steed to take him in a winner or take him to hell.

Whereupon, so the story goes, the horse dug its hooves into the soft earth and with two mighty leaps hurled the rider against a nearby tree, killing him. Residents point to a rotting stump of a tree to bolster the legend.

Some scientists think that perhaps an underground pocket of water or air has its vent in the little ruts and keep them perpetually in existence. Bath folk are slow to accept this explanation.

State Leads U. S. In Plane Pilots

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—California leads the nation in the number of air pilots, says a report. The state has 3373 pilots compared to New York, in second place, with 1691. California also has the largest number of aircraft, 1219, New York being second with 958.

The damage to crops by deer in Los Angeles county last year amounted to $12,275.

HIGHLIGHTS

Journal's Newsreel
NOW SHOWING AT THE Broadway

AT SINGAPORE BASE—U. S. cruisers attend opening of greatest naval base on earth—on tip of Malay peninsula, it dominates Asiatic waters for England.

ALEXANDER KERENSKY, who governed Russia after the fall of the Czar, speaks out against Soviets and Stalin dictatorship.

KING GEORGE VI, with Queen Elizabeth, pays visit to London's Industries Fair. They seem interested in mechanical arts.

TOWNSEND NEWS, VIEWS

By WALTER R. KOBB

Have you noticed the advertising display card which The Journal maintains in Santa Ana Townsend hall, paying the same for it as do other advertisers having similar space? Contrary to a rumor which some way got circulated, The Journal will continue to keep the card on the Townsend hall wall. When W. F. Rockwell called at The Journal office with a bill on Feb. 17, The Journal's auditor, Mr. Harris, paid the account for the card in full to the first of that month. The Journal was the first daily newspaper in the nation to employ a writer to conduct a column devoted to Townsend news and views and the writer is proud to have been the one who was engaged to write the column. It was in the August 31, 1936, issue of The Journal that the first of the series of columns that have followed, appeared.

Some one has said, "a friend in need is a friend indeed," and at the time The Journal made arrangements for this column there was a general aloofness on the part of newspapers to allow space for dissemination of Townsend views. The Journal's editor proved his courage and also his fairness to the Townsend movement in taking into consideration the right of the Townsend people to express their ideas through the press and thus became "a friend indeed" to the Townsendites. Now let all Townsendites be as faithful to The Journal as this newspaper was to them when they needed a friend and remember that in addition to this column there is a paid-for advertising space on the Santa Ana Townsend hall which The Journal continues to maintain.

Mrs. Lillian Rockwell, 201 Witt building, Santa Ana, is preparing soon to publish a book of selections pertaining to the Townsend plan. She is the author of "The Heart of Education" and will demonstrate her reading ability by presenting a number of selections at Santa Ana Club No. 7 meeting being held in the Roosevelt school on East First street at 7 o'clock tonight.

Mrs. Carrie E. Stevens, Orange Club No. 2 secretary, writes that tonight at 6 o'clock the club will meet in the Townsend club building at 131 South Glassell street to enjoy a pot-luck dinner. At 7:30 following the dinner Mrs. Abbie Gould, presiding officer, will conduct a meeting with A. M. Mapes of Santa Ana as speaker. The writer understands some kind of a surprise is to be pulled during the meeting.

Remember that Santa Ana Club No. 10 does not meet tonight, but instead will sponsor a mass meeting in Townsend hall at 509 West Fourth street at 7:30 tomorrow night. A real program has been planned including a concert by the National Youth administration band in front of the hall beginning at 7 o'clock under the direction of T. Dunstan Collins. Other music will be offered in the hall, and Col. Ralph D. Horton of Los Angeles will deliver an address. The Ladies' Afternoon Townsend club will meet in the home of Mrs. Louise Stoneman, 518 South Sycamore, Santa Ana, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon according to program.

Rich Strike Made Near Jumbo Mine

WINNEMUCCA, Nev. (AP)—Another rich vein of gold ore, assaying from $110 to $235 a ton, was encountered recently at the Blue Eagle property in the Awakening district, 42 miles northwest of here, it was announced here.

The ground is near the noted Jumbo gold mine and is being worked by Charles Prentiss and Neils Angell, partners, and three associates.

The strike was made in a branch of the vein 160 feet in from the face. The vein is 32 inches wide and is widening as work continues.

GIRLS BESIEGE PRINCE
LONDON, (AP)—Workbound shopgirls besieged Prince Bernard, husband of Crown Princess Juliana of the Netherlands, when he came here for a brief visit. The dashing Bernard, but recently a father, smiled a shy greeting to the girls.

MANITOU GOLD MINE STARTS

LOVELOCK, Nev. (AP)—The Manitou Gold Mining company has started its 25-ton mill operating on ore from the Desert Queen mine, located on the edge of the Carson Sink seven miles west of Parran.

The plant includes a straub ball mill, overstrom concentrators and amalgamation plates. Water is being pumped from old shafts and is stored in large tanks.

Wilford Dennis is president and general manager of the company, which took the property over five or six years ago.

It is said a volume of gold and silver ore sufficient to last a number of years is available. Dennis hopes eventually to enlarge the mill to a daily capacity of 125 tons.

Snores Clouded By Silence

NEW YORK.—Do you snore? "No," you probably emphatically declare, and perhaps you don't, but scarcely anyone who snores admits it, at least in the current issue of Hygea states.

"Only one out of 10 snorers knows he has the habit, although often he is awakened by the thunder of his own rumblings, and if the snorer faintly suspects his condition he will deny it loudly," the article reads.

Concerning the prevalence of this habit, over which the writer, Margaret McEachern, says silence has "hung a polite cloud of silence," one person in eight snores regularly. There are "snore zones" of age, according to Miss McEachern, it being rare in the ages between 10 and 30, and increasing after 30.

Women are not as likely to snore as men, but when they do they snore just as loud, Miss McEachern reports.

"In most cases it results from a physical defect which can be corrected by a physician," she writes. Such defects cause sleeping with the mouth open, which brings on the snoring. In children enlarged adenoids are often the reason for this, she points out. People who get plenty of outdoor exercises are unlikely to be so afflicted, according to the article.

Palo Verde valley residents are all helping to destroy weeds which are hosts to cotton and vegetable pests.

High School Notes

By MARGARET SCHMITZ

Once each year the co-ed dance gives girls a opportunity to reverse the date situation and ask boys to a dance. This year the co-ed dance will be held March 11, in Andrew's gymnasium.

It will be a program dance with 16 regular and four extra numbers. It will begin at 8:30.

Harry Wham's orchestra has been obtained for the event. Decorations will carry out the St. Patrick's day theme.

Committees composed of Girls League cabinet members are Carroll Brinkerhoff, publicity; Dorothy Davis, chaperones; Frances Keeton and Bettie Timmons, house committee; Lorraine Tarbox, Betty Willis, and Marion Timmons, refreshments, and program committee, Lorraine Tarbox and Chelena McBurney.

"SMILIN' THROUGH"

Tickets to the senior play, "Smilin' Through," are now on sale. Two performances will be given on Friday, March 18; a matinee at 2:30 p. m., and an evening program at 8 p. m.

Prices are 20 cents for student matinee admission; 25 cents in the evening. Adult tickets are priced at 35 cents, and children under 12 years of age will be admitted for 15 cents.

The public may secure tickets for the play at the Santa Ana High school; students, in the foyer of the administration building.

Performances promise to be well worth the price of admission. The cast has been in practice night and day, appropriate stage scenery has been especially constructed, and suitable costumes are being selected in Los Angeles.

TWO ASSEMBLIES

Instead of one assembly for the entire body, girls and boys attend different assemblies this week. Mrs. Case, junior fashion representative from Los Angeles, spoke at girls' assembly. She brought a selection of new fashions with her and helped the co-eds with their clothes problems.

Boys were entertained by an orchestra and various athletic performances in the gymnasium. The program was arranged by W. W. Foote, boys' physical education instructor.

EDITOR APPOINTED

Due to the resignation of Gladys Montgomery, former exchange editor, Audree Wilsey has been appointed exchange editor of the Generator.

Audree's duties include filing the various school publications re-

SCIENCE AGOG OVER BEE DIET

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Even scientists who know their bees are puzzled by bee diets.

For example, W. J. Nolan, government bee specialist, would like to know why alfalfa, which is a good nectar producer west of the Mississippi, is of only slight importance in the East.

Buckwheat honey, known for its dark color and characteristic flavor, comes from a small area near Lake Erie and Ontario, although buckwheat is grown elsewhere in the country. Even white clover, top-notch source of nectar, doesn't tempt bees in some parts of the United States.

Shoemaker, Perry Smith, Fred Allyn, Jack Mair, C. L. Steen, and Clarence Worton.

BAND APPEARS

Santa Ana High school's band under the direction of Kenneth Heiges played before the high school P-T-A. this week.

The program numbered "Lights Out," by McCoy; "Pilgrim," by M. L. Lake, and "World Events," by J. S. Zamecnik.

Forty-one students compose this musical organization. Clarinet players are Charles Adkins, Allan Elston, De Springmeyer, Richard Ladiges, Russell Jacobs, Margie Pederson, Bob Livingston, George Detweiler, Marilyn Kyle, and Robert Wahlberg. Trumpet players number five: Allen, Roy Cory, LeRoy Wells, Lorraine Lewis, Archibald Winters, Vayle Taylor, Ralph Girtan, Gordon Garnet, and Willard Keeler. Trombone players are Robert Lambert, Morris Boling, David Swartz, and Harold Herren. Baritone players include Karl Morrison, Phyllis Wetherell, Arlene Hoffman, Jim Tapscott, Norman Haskell, Eugene Hamaker, Tom

NAZIS WATCH JEWISH LABELS

BERLIN, (AP)—Steps have been taken by the Nazi trade organization to make it easy for shoppers to determine with one look whether or not a piece of cloth has gone through Jewish hands.

Aryan from weaving loom to retailer heads a little guarantee seal in men's clothes and ladies' dresses sold by a chain of stores throughout the country.

With the gradual elimination of Jewish business men from the textile industry in Germany, the trade organization now aims at guaranteeing the aryan origin of underwear, lingerie, hats, umbrellas, ties, garters, suspenders and spats.

Scales Weigh Your Breath

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Pneumonia treatment will be aided by measuring the breath in a newly discovered process, according to research specialists at the University of Rochester here. An infinitesimal drop of moisture is lost from the body each time a person breathes. This loss in body weight can now be measured by the university's delicate scales.

"The body loses about one and two-thirds ounces of water in perspiration in an hour," said Dr. E. F. Adolph, pediatrician at the Strong Memorial hospital.

lips, Lucille Andrews, and Roy Gowdy. Violinists, Bob Warren and Clarence Worton. French horns are played by Ralph Tippon and Frank Ramirez. Drum players are Al Hadly, Richard Watson and Roy Warrecker. Chimes are played by Amy Nichols; the piccolo by Marjory Waldon.

REPORT HITS OVERCHARGING RACKET IN U.S.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Acting Comptroller Richard N. Elliott has sent to congress a bulky report on alleged illegal government expenditures which captured immediate attention of senators debating the future of his office.

It was the second report from Elliott's office to reach the capitol. The first was a complaint that the treasury was burdening the comptroller's office by refusing to comply with the law prescribing methods for handling outstanding federal checks.

Senate debate on Elliott's office came during consideration of the administration's executive reorganization bill, containing a provision to abolish the comptroller's office.

In his report on illegal expenditures, Elliott aimed much of his criticism at National Guard officers in several states.

The report said they charged the federal government for fictitious supplies and helped enlisted men get paid for drills from which they were absent.

The air commerce bureau was charged with buying nine airplanes for $78,768 without authority.

Polish Children Welcome Hoover

KRAKOW, Poland, (AP)—Herbert Hoover, former president of the United States, was welcomed by throngs of children as he arrived here today on his way to Warsaw.

He placed a wreath on the Woodrow Wilson monument and laid flowers on the graves of two Polish heroes, Marshal Joseph Pilsudski and Brig. Gen. Thadeus Kosciuszko of American revolution fame.

Check Passers Go To San Quentin

Two Orange county prisoners in San Quentin were stowed away today for terms of 14 and five years, respectively, on bad check charges.

Sunyoshi Imamura, sentenced to the penitentiary last November, must serve 14 years, the state board of prison terms and paroles decreed today. John A. Hubbell, sentenced on two counts of forged

Palm Springs Sets Date for Election

RIVERSIDE, (AP)—The county board of supervisors has set for April 12 an election at Palm Springs on the question of whether that desert resort shall become an incorporated municipality of the sixth class.

In their formal hearing on the matter, the supervisors set Palm Springs' population at approximately 2900 persons and named election officials.

Seven city councilmen are to be elected under the amended state law which permits Palm Springs to incorporate, despite the fact that sections of Indian reservation land are situated in alternate order within its limits.

The city treasurer and city clerk are to be appointed, rather than elected.

CARS, TRUCKS SALES LISTED

NEW YORK, (AP)—Sales of general Motors cars and trucks to consumers in the United States in February amounted to 62,531 units, compared with 56,938 in January and 49,674 in February, 1937.

Total sales to dealers in the United States and Canada plus overseas shipment were 94,449 units compared with 94,267 in January and 74,567 in February last year.

Gas Workers Union To Start School

First of a series of "school nights" sponsored by the Pacific Gas Workers Union will be held on March 24, it was announced at meeting of the union last night. The class series will present studies of various phases of the gas industry.

Delegates from the local union to the first yearly convention of gas workers, slated for Pico April 8, 9 and 10, will be announced later. President John Fox was in charge of the meeting.

checks, must serve five years on each, the terms to run concurrently.

SEARCHING PARTIES STILL SCOUR AFRICAN WATERS FOR TREASURE

CAPETOWN, S. A.—Search parties still leave here for the coast of Africa, 200 miles to the northeast, to search for treasure supposedly sunk on the shore in the wreck of the Grosvenor, Indian merchantman, which went on the rocks in 1782, but all that has ever been found is a few gold coins.

The story of the Grosvenor, however, reminds one of the great adventures of the sea. After years of research it has just been told by Jonathan Lee in "The Fate of the Grosvenor" (Covici-Friede).

The Grosvenor, loaded with silks and riches from India, piled up on the rocks with approximately 140 persons aboard. Of these, eight were women and children.

The party started marching south toward Capetown, without food or arm, expecting to make the distance in a few days. One by one they died of exhaustion, for the natives refused them food. The party split into two, the captain leading a group, containing the women, inland.

This group was never heard from again. Of the others, eight staggered through the wilderness to safety, 117 days later.

The fate of the captain and the men and women of his party remains a riddle today. Appearance of certain light-skinned natives in the district has caused some to believe that the party was captured by natives and the women forced to intermarry with the natives. The truth will probably never be learned.

Flood Disaster Films Showing

Scenes of the recent flood as it hit in Los Angeles county are being filmed currently at Walker's theater. The Pathe pictures will be shown tomorrow.

Most of the several hundred feet of film depict scenes from the Los Angeles river banks, from North Hollywood to Long Beach. One especially good shot shows the Universal City bridge crumple and collapse as flood waters hit it.

Santa Ana Journal,
Santa Ana, Calif.
Gentlemen:

May we take this opportunity to tell you of the wonderful success that we had with our damaged goods sale advertisement that we ran exclusively in the Wednesday morning edition of The Journal.

When we opened our doors Wednesday morning we had over a hundred customers waiting to get in, and the store was crowded until closing time. In fact Wednesday was one of the biggest days in volume and number of customers that we have had in the market.

Thanks for your fine cooperation and an advertising medium that gets results.
Yours very truly,

Brick Dust

RAMBLING
ORANGE COUNTY —with—
T. N.
(BRICK)
GAINES

Why, oh why did we have to include in a flood? Here it is, a week after the deluge, and there's still not much to look at but damages.

And, as a result, not much to write about, either.

Yesterday, for instance, I started out with the best of intentions. Headed the rapidly-aging family vehicle for San Juan Capistrano and a possible call on Judge John Landell, but the burned thing acted like a steam horn here. Kept pulling over toward Placentia.

And so, instead of insisting on my rights—and possibly suffering a fractured steering rod or something, I let the car have its way. We went to Placentia, Atwood and La Jolla.

Where, first, we talked to Police Chief Gus Barnes, he of the Paul Revere fame.

Gus became a candidate for hero medals the night of the flood when he roused sleeping residents in the path of roaring water. Saved lots of lives.

When we met him yesterday, Gus was discussing rumors. Seems as if a battered refugee staggered into his office that morning and told of finding a car filled with sand and a human arm sticking from the window. Investigation revealed there wasn't any such car. Or any such arm.

Placentia, incidentally, looks as it did many years ago, in the oil boom. The streets are filled with cars, spectators and hangar-on-ers. It's because of the Red Cross, which has established headquarters there to care for the entire stricken area.

Picked up Editor Frank Ro-paw, who acted as official guide on a tour of swamped districts. Frank obtained a nice red card for us which allowed entrance into La Jolla and Atwood. If you don't have one of these relief permits, there's no use trying to get in.

Little La Jolla looks the worst. Dozens of homes are washed away. In some places, there'll be only a roof where there used to be a house. Large store buildings are tumbled in all directions. One house, about a five-roomer, stands directly across the main street. The street now goes around the house. Some prankster has printed "For Rent" on the side in large letters.

Debris litters the whole place and scurry-looking dogs prowl in the ruins, no doubt looking for a bite to eat, seeing as the master's either swept away by the flood or is being cared for in the refugee headquarters.

To understand the La Jolla situation, you should know that the little settlement stood directly in the old bed of the Santa Ana river. In storm-time, a fair-sized stream runs right through the middle of town. However, when the river broke through above Atwood, the rushing water hit in all directions, making almost a clean sweep on both sides of the old stream bank.

About the only building that stood up under the onslaught was the new school, made of Sicks. There was more than a foot of water in that structure, which stands about four feet above ground level. And inside were more than 200 fear-stricken folks!

However, the only ones who died were those who left the safety of the school, figuring the flood was over. They didn't come back.

Atwood, on the north side of the tracks, isn't hurt much. But the south side, where the old river bed runs, is gone, almost. What houses remain seem so badly battered that they're useless. Pitiful attempts have been made by former homeowners to clean up their tiny shacks. Mud has been shoveled out of homes and lays in huge globs in front. Shreds of clothing have been washed, and hang from makeshift lines. Children poke about in the ruins, no doubt looking for a lost doll—or maybe a lost sister or brother—while parents try to make some sort of a home out of what's left.

In the meantime, Red Cross workers have obtained tents and are erecting 'em both at La Jolla and Atwood.

More'n 50 huge tents are being placed in La Jolla. One family to each, is the plan. Gas and water are being piped in, wooden floors installed, and every possible comfort given the unfortunates.

While all this is going on, hundreds still occupy the American Legion hall.

Officials here have overcome a stubborn problem with the greatest of ease. Seems as if in other places they've had some trouble with food. Maybe not cooking the kind the Mexican folk like, or pot cooking it in the right way.

But my pal Lucana McFadden solved that easily. She put the Mexican women to work manufacturing huge tacos, cooking beans just the way they wanted 'em, and such. The result is everyone's satisfied. The kids eat first. Then the men who have been out doing rehabilitation work, then the rest. It's been a sort of lark—or would have been if there weren't so much tragedy mixed in.

Incidentally, my own refugee problem is coming along fine, thank you.

PASTOR NAMED FOR CHURCH AT COSTA MESA

COSTA MESA.—Appointment of the Rev. Clarence I. Andrews, of Idaho, to fill the vacancy left by the death of the Rev. Harold J. Smith a month ago, was definitely learned today from Everett Rea, chairman of the committee on pastoral relations.

The Rev. Mr. Andrews, who is on leave of absence from the Idaho Methodist Conference and was spending the winter in Los Angeles with Mrs. Andrews, comes to the Costa Mesa pastorate highly recommended by Idaho church officials. Dr. James E. Dunning, of Santa Ana, superintendent of the Orange and San Diego county district, said he will serve the local post until completion of the present conference year in June.

The Rev. Mr. Andrews' first official duty in Costa Mesa will be participation in the memorial service to be conducted next Sunday evening in the Community church for the late Rev. Mr. Smith. The service is to be in charge of the young people of the church, under the direction of Hugh Davis, an officer in the Epworth League.

The Rev. Fred Ross of San Pedro, life-long friend of the Rev. Mr. Smith, will be speaker. Others participating will be Richard Owen, who will sing; Misses Helen Davis, Wanda Thompson, Geraldine Perry and Doris McMurtry, in quartet numbers and Mrs. Veda Thompson, organist.

The Rev. and Mrs. Andrews will arrive at the Costa Mesa parsonage Sunday morning.

News About El Toro Folks

By MRS. CARRIE G. DREWS

Amos A. Scott, after a short illness, passed away Sunday at the home of his son, Charlie Scott, where he has made his home for many years, and was laid to rest at Fairhaven Mausoleum Wednesday morning. He also leaves two grandchildren, Bob and Dorothy Scott of Portland, Ore.

Some old neighbors called on L. F. Moulton Wednesday afternoon, and had such a good visit, talking about old times, people and country round about. In speaking of Anaheim, he said it was the largest town in Los Angeles county in the 1870's. And was his headquarters when he went to Los Angeles on business, having to spend his first and third nights there, traveling by horse and buggy.

He said Anaheim was most entirely wiped out in 1884 when our rainfall was 32.65 inches. Then he showed us a Ledger with a complete record of rainfall from the year 1877-78, to date, an account the government has borrowed from him and which he has made out of his El Toro ranch.

The next highest he has recorded is 1936-37 when we had 24.92 inches. The season of 1888-89 comes next with 21.97 inches. The driest seasons were 1876-77 and 1878-79 which showed but 5.20 and 5.73 inches of rainfall.

A. G. Shaw of Laguna Beach went out to look after his bees one day last week where he had them located in an orange grove, and found but 5 of his 75 swarms, 70 of them being washed away by the flood. Did anybody rescue them? He would like to know. Mr. Shaw keeps many swarms in the grove of our El Toro hills when they are high and dry.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Prothero entertained ten people with a 1 o'clock dinner Sunday, honoring the birthdays of her mother, Mrs. Bertha Bargsten of Orange, and their young son, Earl Prothero. In the evening, more friends and relatives were entertained, and a buffet supper was served. Those present besides their own family of six were Mrs. Bertha and Miss Edna Bargsten of Orange, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buchheim and family of Santa Ana, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Salter and family.

Sunday, Mrs. Ustariz, Mrs. Katherine Errota, Mrs. D. Segura, Rose, Grace and Mary Etcheberria visited the girls' aunt at Norwalk where Mrs. Ustariz met an old neighbor whom she hadn't seen since they lived in Basque Pyrenees, 26 years ago. It was a happy reunion.

Funny how everybody runs out to see the trains go by! Didn't know we could miss them so much, did we?

Dirt is being hauled from the cut just east of town by trains to the washouts at Fullerton and Anaheim.

The loading is being done by a private contractor's power shovel as the railroad company's shovels are all busy.

This shovel, being brought in by truck, bogged down near Will Woodhouse' place and they were many hours digging it out.

VISITS IN TUSTIN
TUSTIN.—Mrs. Norman Abrams of Lido Isle was a visitor Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Maggie Smith of East First street.

river from some upland spot, is feeling swell.

Last night he started in competing with local frogs, who had been rejoicing steadily for a couple of hours.

He emitted one huge roar which made the garage doors rattle and scared all the chickens in the neighborhood.

The local frogs haven't made a sound since.

Headquarters of the Tetley Nursery are now located in the hotel on Eighth street, Riverside.

Mrs. Robertson New Head of Newport P.-T. A. Group

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Mrs. O. Z. Robertson of Balboa Island, was elected to succeed Mrs. Albert Sparkes, Costa Mesa, as president of Newport Harbor High school P.-T. A. at the regular meeting of the organization Tuesday.

Mrs. Robertson will have a cabinet composed of Mrs. M. R. Cunningham, vice-president; Mrs. R. E. Bacon, treasurer; Mrs. Conrad Shook, recording secretary; Mrs. Lucy Marshall, corresponding secretary; Miss Dorothy Tully, parliamentarian; Leonard Swanson, auditor and Mrs. Delmar Hayden, historian.

The new officers will be installed at the April meeting.

Miss Viola Perry, the speaker of the afternoon, discussed "Our Library—an Open Door to Adult Education." Miss Perry's talk embraced the angles of extension and efficiency of service; purpose of the library; importance of reading for useful information, vocational interests and general knowledge as well as a means of bringing about broader interests, social heritages and a love of beauty.

At the close of the talk, Miss Alice Both Rollins, high school librarian, conducted an open forum on matters concerning library usage with School Superintendent S. H. Davidson also answering questions along this line.

A short play was presented by the dramatics class under the direction of Miss Dorothy Tully, the cast composed of Morris Womack, Marvey Logan, Sherman Edwards, Bill Lee St. Clair, Richard Mallory, Patricia Whitson, Harry Kidder, Ruth King, Loreen Wentworth, and Bobby Miles.

The high school girls' sextet, accompanied by Miss Marie Hebsch, instructor of music, sang "Remember," from the opera, "Maytime," by Sigmund Romberg, and "Peter Piper," by Frank Bridges.

COSTA MESA.—The free smallpox vaccination for children of school-age and pre-school-age, which was originally scheduled for Friday morning in the Main elementary school, has been postponed indefinitely, according to Mrs. A. L. Pinkley, public health chairman of the local P.-T. A.

The postponement came as a result of all county doctors and nurses being required in the flood areas.

Tustin Benefit Dance Planned

TUSTIN.—The Pythian Sisters will give another benefit dance Saturday night in the K.P. hall. The last dance and card party was such a success that women in charge of the last affair have decided to give another dance.

The proceeds received from this dance will be used to defray the expenses of the drill team to the grand temple convention at Santa Rosa in May.

SHE RISKS HER LIFE FOR THE Movies

IONE REED, Hollywood's Darling Movie Stunt Girl, after a hazardous feat, asked for a Camel. And that led to the question: "I've noticed that you're a steady Camel smoker, Miss Reed. Do you have definite reasons for preferring them to other cigarettes?"

DARING? Yes! Foolhardy? No! Ione Reed knows what she's doing. And she is careful in her choice of a cigarette, because, as she says: "It means a lot to me to know that my cigarette agrees with me!"

Millions of other people find that Camels give them what they want in smoking!

It's Camels for star stunt girl—Ione Reed! It's Camels for the famous diving expert—Commander Ellsberg! And for golf champion Ralph Guldahl! speed flier Roscoe Turner; and men and women in all walks of life. If you are not now enjoying Camels, perhaps you, too, will find that it means a lot to smoke Camels—the cigarette that is made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS, Turkish and Domestic.

"CAMELS AGREE WITH ME"

"What cigarette do the tobacco growers smoke themselves?"

"Camels—by a large majority," say planters who know the kinds of tobacco bought by each popular cigarette

T. N. Williams, well-known grower, of Winchester, Kentucky, says: "A planter knows tobacco. My last crop was the best I ever had and the Camel people bought my best leaf tobacco. There isn't any question where the more expensive tobaccos go. They're in Camel cigarettes."

Top prices, that's what J. B. Jackson, successful planter, got from the Camel buyer last year. "Camel buyers don't buy just any tobacco—they pay more to get the best. That means finer tobaccos are used for Camels. I say quality has got to be grown in tobacco. That's why I smoke Camels."

"I'm a planter," says Vertner Hutton, who has grown tobacco for 25 years. "Camel bought the best grades of my last crop. Paid a high price for my finest grades. I smoke Camels—because I know there isn't any substitute for more expensive tobaccos."

FULLERTON MAY ANNEX BUENA PARK DISTRICT

BUENA PARK.—No action was taken by Buena Park Kiwanians this week, but Howard Irwin, Henry Parry and Harry May told members many reasons why the community that joins Fullerton on the west should either become part of Fullerton, or incorporate. May and Irwin suggested water supply needs are an incentive either to annexation to Fullerton or incorporation; into this discussion was brought the fact that incorporation with Fullerton would bring use of Metropolitan Water District water.

MERRIAM TO BE ORANGE GUEST

ORANGE.—Governor Merriam will be a guest at a dinner Monday evening, May 2, when the City of Orange begins a two-day celebration in commemoration of its founding 50 years ago. This announcement was made Thursday afternoon when the executive committee of the celebration met in the chamber of commerce room.

W. O. Hart will be in charge of the dinner. Other guests will be officials of the Santa Fe railroad, whose new station at Orange will be dedicated at the time the city holds the fête.

Other plans formulated include a parade Tuesday morning in the business district; activities at the city park Tuesday afternoon, a rodeo and horse events on the level ground just west of the Glassell street bridge, two baseball games in the evening at the ball park.

All service clubs and other organizations of the city were represented at Thursday's meeting and discussed plans with the executive committee on which are C. H. Robinson, chairman; C. M. Carlson, Kellar Watson, Jr., M. E. Jones and V. D. Johnson.

The water suit between Tuolumne county land owners and San Francisco will be retried at Merced.

TWO FINED UNDER GAS ACT

Two Orange county service station operators were prosecuted and given suspended fines for violations of the California gasoline and oil substitution act this week, the division of weights and measures, state department of agriculture, announced today.

Only three arrests on that count were made in the state. The third was in San Diego.

J. H. Ulrich, Anaheim, was arrested on two counts, failure to post the retail price of gasoline on the pumps from which gasoline was sold, and substitution of an inferior brand of motor oil for a well known brand. Ulrich pleaded guilty in Anaheim justice court and was fined $50 on each count. Collection was suspended for six months pending good behavior.

Second arrest was that of Charles Lamb, Garden Grove, who was charged with violating the act by selling reclaimed oil in containers labeled with a standard grade of western oil. He was fined $50, with sentence suspended under six months' probation.

ORANGE LEGION ASKS CLOTHING

ORANGE.—Donations of clothing, bedding and household articles are asked by the Orange American Legion post for the relief of flood sufferers. It was announced today by George Bickford, chairman of the disaster relief committee of the post.

FLOOD BENEFIT MAT CARD SET

ROMANO FAILS TO DEFEAT CHAMP CHICK

Piluso and Carter
Stage Torrid Draw

Sponsored by the Santa Ana Post, American Legion, and backed by various city leaders of Orange county, a gigantic Flood Relief benefit wrestling program will be staged at the Orange County Athletic club next Thursday night, March 17.

The announcement was made last night from the ringside by Promoter Bud Levin, originator of the idea, who proposed that the entire proceeds from a five-bout card be turned over to aid needy families of the county who are suffering as the result of the recent flood conditions.

Except for actual operating expense, which has been reduced at every turn, proceeds will go to the Legion to distribute among needy families of the county.

Promoter Levin stated that tickets for the benefit will be placed on sale throughout the county immediately and commitments from various county legion posts will handle the sale. In addition, club women of the county will aid in its promotion, as will the press of the county.

Levin hopes to complete his program late today. He will make every attempt, he said, to bring several of the outstanding stars of the light-heavyweight and junior heavyweight divisions here for the program.

Several motion picture stars may be induced to make a public appearance.

There will be no increase in prices in spite of the benefit angle, or the fact that instead of four, five bouts will be presented. General admission tickets will be sold for 40 cents and ringside tickets at $1.10 each included. Reserved seats will bring the customary 75 cents.

ROMANO NO MATCH FOR DUDE CHICK

Felipe Romano, the Mexican favorite, is no match for Dude Chick, the burly champion of the junior heavyweights.

This was shown at the Orange County Athletic club last night when Chick pinned his lighter foe in straight falls with body slams and presses. Time was 29:46 and 23:17. Romano had two "kill" holds on Chick, whose rough tactics forced the Mexican to release them. As long as Referee "Tiger" McKee continued to allow Chick to get away with his dirty tactics, Romano will never stand a chance.

Gene Autry, western movie star, served as Chick's second.

Ernie Piluso and Marshall Carter wrestled to a torrid 45-minute draw, after Piluso had taken the first with body slams in 27:43, and Carter the second in 8:17. Tony (Kullen) Morelli, the villain, defeated youthful Tommy Ward in 11:17, and Steve Strelch pinned Duke Pettigrove in 7:03 in the openers.

TUSTIN FIVE AT WHITTIER

Faced with their stiffest obstacle in three playoff games, Tustin's Tilters travel to Whittier tonight to engage the Eubank league champion.

Runs in the C. I. F. basketball quarter-finals at 8 o'clock. A sell-out crowd is believed certain.

Tustin eliminated Whittier in the finals of the Southern California playoffs last year, but the tables may be turned tonight. Whittier has three holdovers from the '37 squad, and the newcomers are said to be classier than the cagers lost through graduation.

Tustin, which defeated Orange, 10-8 and Montebello 30-19 in the first two rounds, stands a good chance of reaching the finals with a crack combination of Vic and Winkler. Harold Lilley and Larry Monroy. Lilley was "hot" last week, scoring 15 points to defeat Montebello. If he is "right" again tonight, Tustin will be troublesome because the Linker brothers and Monroy, holdovers from coach Bill Cole's Southland champions of last year, are consistent players, and Freshman Everett Winkler has improved greatly at center.

Girl Coaches Boys' Basketball Team

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—When Miss Annie B. Mullis issues an order to the boys' basketball team she coaches at Cottondale High school it is obeyed.

"Shucks, you can't argue," one of her husky players here for a tournament, said. "She teaches us algebra, too."

WRESTLING

READING, Pa. — Jesse James, 190, Hollywood, Cal., pinned Gino Martinelli, 200, New York, 56:45.

HARTFORD, Conn. — George Koverly, 218, Hollywood, Cal., threw Pat Riley, 211, Texas, two straight falls.

RADIO GAME POPULAR WITH RACING FANS

Many turf fans who are tied down at the office all day, and unable to visit Santa Ana or receive the results via radio during the afternoon, are finding a barrel of fun in a little game around the radio at night.

Any number can play. You take a handicap chart (out of your morning newspaper or you can use Frank Pike's daily column in The Journal) and try to pick the eight winners. Dial KFWB or KFOX between 7:30 and 8 p. m., when the races are dramatized. If you haven't peeked at the winners beforehand, your guessing game will provide no little excitement.

GLENN KELLEY WILL ADD SPARK TO STARS

Negotiations for Glenn Kelley, San Bernardino's 350-lb. hitting catcher and outfielder, finally have been completed by Santa Ana's Stars, who will sign the ace backstop within a few days. Kelley starts to work here Monday.

With the ever-popular Bomo Koral reverting back from Orange, Manager "Doc" Smith proposes to use Kelley in the outfield when spring training opens April 4.

Venn Botts, veteran pitcher and Kelley's battery mate last year, is headed for Huntington Beach's Oilers, according to latest rumors.

Floyd Montgomery, Anaheim's ace flyhawk, may wind up in either an Irvine or Westminster uniform. The Stars want him. It's 50-50 that Jim Coates, one-time pitching pride of the Stars, will pass up Visalia of the San Joaquin Valley league for another season with Santa Ana. George Preble, veteran second-sacker, is ticketed for the Stars.

PROGNOSTICATING 'EM IN THREE SPORTS

Long-shots: Maxie Baer over Tommy Farr in their fight at Madison Square Garden in New York tonight; Tustin over Whittier in the C.I.F. prep basketball quarter-finals at Whittier; Santa Ana's Dons to break even with the college all-stars in an attractive rugby game at the Municipal bowl.

RUMORS FLYING THICK IN CITY SOFTBALL

Rumors are flying thick in the Santa Ana City Nightball league. From all indications, there will be some new blood in the club ruined Orange's first game since 1929 by the staggering count of 17-1 at Poly field yesterday.

Baffling Orange with a no-run, no-hit performance in the first four innings of the seven-frame game, Tommy Wilkins turned in a masterful exhibition while his teammates were taking advantage of the weak Panther mound corp.

Seven runs came in the second inning on four hits, three walks and an error. Twelve men went to bat in the third, scoring seven runs on five hits, two errors and two bases on balls.

A home run by Ben Byland, Saint catcher, in the fourth brought in two runs ahead of him for the final scoring. Henry Martinez of Holly Sugar softball fame held the final three innings while his replacement Wilkins on the hill for the Saints and gave up the lone Orange score on two walks and a single.

The Saints were to play the junior college in a "civil war" game at Poly field today.

SMITH LEADING BY 6 STROKES

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—The boys who play golf for money today virtually conceded first place in the $3000 Hollywood Open to Horton Smith.

Smith, apparently back in form, started today's 36-hole grind six strokes in front with a score of 131, 11 shots under par.

LOS ANGELES.—Opening the Pacific Coast conference southern division tennis schedule, the University of Southern California and University of California net teams will meet at 1:30 p. m. Saturday on the Trojan courts.

Lewis Wetherell, of Santa Ana, National Public parks champion and one of U.S.C.'s outstanding players for the past two years, has just been elected captain and will lead the Trojans for the first time in the matches with the Bears.

Stagehand Leaves
Coast April 1

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The Maxwell Howard stable of horses, including the sensational 3-year-old, Stagehand, winner of the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap, and the $50,000 Santa Anita derby, will remain in California until April 1, Trainer Earl Sande said today.

DON RUGGERS CLASH WITH ALL-STARS

Fifteens Perform in
S. A. Bowl Tonight

Three of the finest teams the bowl will combine their talent "to gang up" on Santa Ana Junior college's rugger in an all-star game at 8 o'clock tonight on the Municipal bowl turf. Admission will be 25 cents.

The game will serve as a tune-up for a March 19 contest here between two all-star teams comprised of U. S. C. U. C. L. A. Santa Barbara State and Santa Ana Jaycees against the club teams of Pasadena, Hollywood and Santa Barbara.

The team that invades the bowl tonight will consist of players from U. S. C., U. C. L. A. and Santa Barbara State who gained places on the all-star team for the March 19 game. Three Dons—Bill Twist, Danny Boyd and Bill Sennacher—also made this squad, but they will represent Coach Ernest Butterworth's junior college squad tonight.

A new ruling, which will insure a wide-open running and passing attack for both teams, will be in force. The rule is that the defensive team must wait until the ball is kicked up from the scrum by the offensive team before it can charge the man with the ball. This will give a team's passing attack a better opportunity to get under way.

Coach Butterworth has juggled the Dons' lineup so that it is the strongest since the loss of seven key men at the start of the season. Pete Kotler, who has been out of action for a month, will be in the front rank with Bill Twist. Bob Paul will go back to the third row with Tom Anderson and Sennacher will team with Carl Benson and Glen Cave in the second row in the other shifts. Jerry Nesmith will be in the backfield instead of the line in the only "back" charge.

The lineup is as follows:

Pos.	College Team
Twist	Jesse (SC)
Kotler	Boyd (SC)
Benson	Padgett (UC)
Sennacher	Oldershaw (SB)
Cave	McConnell (UC)
Anderson	Proulx (SC)
Paul	Payne (SC)
Boyd	Boyd (SC)
Tucker	Pollack (SC)
Joseph	Lawler (SC)
Kashi	Boyd (SC)
Timken	Morelli (SB)
Wilson	Mitchell (UC)
Kenneth	Sloan (SC)
Pannell	McCann (UC)

Substitutions:
Santa Ana: Hunt and Keller, Pakenkop, Appeler.
All-star: Callagans—Yager (SB), Stevenson (SC), Tyler (SC).

SAINTS RUIN ORANGE, 17-1

Pounding out all runs in the second, third and fourth innings, Santa Ana High school's baseball club ruined Orange's first game since 1929 by the staggering count of 17-1 at Poly field yesterday.

OREGON FACES STANFORD IN CAGE PLAYOFF

Sellout Crowd Sees
First Game Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Angelo (Hank) Luisetti and his Stanford teammates will be favorites here tonight in the first game of their playoff basketball series with University of Oregon for the Pacific Coast conference championship.

A second game will be played at Stanford pavilion at Palo Alto tomorrow night, as will a third contest, if necessary.

All 7814 seats as well as more than 1000 standing room spots at the civic auditorium were sold out for tonight's contest, and the 2000 seats at Stanford likewise were taken for tomorrow night.

The Oregonians, who won 14 games and lost six to win the northern division title, arrived yesterday for a workout and appeared in high spirits, confident they could knock over the Indians, conference champions the last two years.

Stanford won 10 games and lost two in the southern division. Both teams are high scorers, Stanford averaging 53 points per game and Oregon 50.4.

Irvine Trims Treesweet, Retains Lead

Hurdling the last major obstacle to their do-or-die meeting with Wilson's Dairy next Thursday for the second half Y. M. C. A. league basketball championship, Irvine's cagers topped Treesweet Products, 30-20, last night on the "Y" hardwood.

The victory over Treesweet was the 10th consecutive by Irvine. Wilson's holds a still more brilliant record with 21 straight wins. Asa Herren and LeRoy (Chub) Sears set the scoring pace with 12 and 10 points each. Irvine led 16-10 at the half.

ANEROID MAY WIN $10,000 'CAPISTRANO'

Seabiscuit Out of Feature Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—With Seabiscuit out of the $10,000 San Juan Capistrano handicap at Santa Anita next Saturday, J. A. Manfuso's Aneroid, his conqueror of two weeks ago, appeared today to be the likely favorite.

C. S. Howard withdrew Seabiscuit because he had been assigned a weight of 135 pounds, after having finished second to the Stagehand in last Saturday's $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap carrying 130 pounds.

"In spite of this fact, Seabiscuit has been asked to pick up five pounds," Howard protested. "I have been laboring under a delusion in thinking horses picked up weight for winning races."

"The 'Biscuit' is not going to be broken down by carrying excessive weight. I will retire him first." Aneroid, which now will carry top weight of 123 pounds in the San Juan Capistrano, will be ridden by Sonny Workman.

Other prospective starters are Sweepalot, Gosum, Amor Brujo, Indian Broom, Star Shadow, Woodberry, over the Top, War-farer, Freno, Count Atlas and possibly Seashifter.

Howard said Seabiscuit would race at Bay Meadows and Inglewood, before being shipped east next summer for New England, Maryland and New York stakes.

NINE DERRY HORSES IN CONSOLATION RACE

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Nine horses which failed to figure in the money in the $50,000 Santa Anita Derby Washington's birthday, will get a crack at the Santa Anita $5400 added feature race today.

Stagehand, Dauber and Sun Egret, which finished in that order in the derby, are automatically barred in today's consolation mile and one-sixteenth. It is one-sixteenth of a mile shorter than the Derby, giving the sprinters a break.

Legal Light and Sir Raleigh, which finished fourth and fifth, respectively in the Derby, King's Heir and A. A. Baron's Specific may prove the favorites. Other scheduled starters are Minulus, Can't Wait, Tedium, Indian Lodge and Rommy.

LIONETTES IN FIRST DRILL

Attention, girls! If you like softball, and would like to play, who is ready to be named as the best girls' team ever developed in Orange county, report to the Orange city park promptly at 7 o'clock tonight. New-Manager Vic Baden is calling out his Orange Lionettes for their first drill, and has extended a welcome to every girl athlete in the county to engage in the training program.

The Lionettes will compete in Los Angeles this year in a Class A league. They open against the Bank of America girls at Fielder field March 28.

Illinois Bike Team Leads L. A. Grind

Sharpshooting Santa Anita

By FRANK FISKE

Another horseman of some little current prominence, one C. S. Howard, seems to be uncertain as to who and what is putting the spirals in the inner circle at Santa Anita. In fact, Howard, judging from his statements in the morning prints, seems to be a bit annoyed. And you can't blame him. He has taken his loss of the handicap with perfect sportsmanship and without any attempt to alibi. His horse, Seabiscuit, ran the best race of anything in the 'cap to be noted out at the finish. That's racing luck. But when they suspend your jockey for engaging in a fouling behavior and his collaborator in the performance in the saddle—well, maybe that's racing luck, too.

But you can't blame Mr. Howard for mentioning the matter. Several other horsemen of possibly less prominence than Mr. Howard, are mentioning things in various tones of voice and indications are that all is not so rosy at the Arcadia plant. You might bear that in mind as you consider the selections for the—

First... BONILUNA—RUSHING BY—FRESNO. And look both ways before you leap.

Second... Here are the two-year-olds again and try and pick 'em. QUICK GOLD for a chance at a price. RIVER PIRATE and RETAKE on such form as there may be.

Third... Try INFINITE LADY—SWEET BETTY—LEIGHTONWOOD.

Fourth... MERINA was a good thing last out and missed. She'll do today. MASTERPIECE and RON CENTIME for the runners-up.

Fifth... Use a hat pin or play these—DONNA LEONA—BOSS MARTIN—STEPHEN JAY.

Sixth... Some like one and some other here but I'm sticking with one that's picked up the winning habit. MINULUS—SPECIFY—KING'S HEIR. Maybe CAN'T WAIT will run to earlier promise.

Seventh... RODNEY PAN—PASS SHOT—RAVE BEN. Bet it here and sleep in the streets.

Eighth... Remember what I say. RECOATNA—GOOD FLAVOR—BRUSTIGERT.

(Fiske's selections are broadcast over KVOE at 8:30 a. m. and 12:30 p. m. by Journal Newscaster Tom Danson.)

Where the Muse Runs Wild

(In this department from time to time will be run contributed verse ranging (we hope) from doggerel to poetry. In the words of the standard magazine rejection slip—Rejection does not imply lack of merit—and neither does publication.)

CHARITY (Continued From Last Time)

I filled out a government questionnaire. The state had me do the same. The county has "promised" until I fear.

Relief is a bunko game. They asked me my family history. It seems they take great pride in making me blush, but the mystery.

Is why is the "tape" so "dyed." They gave me a card and a number, too. In case I should ever croak. It's understood they are not too good.

To the guy who can smile and joke. You've got to be poverty stricken first. Next to a guy with a pull. You plead till you think your heart will burst.

Yet they hand you the same old bull. They promised me work just three months ago. And two months ago: "Twas the same. Last month they told me—"Tomorrow's your day."

The month has gone by: What a "game." Today they were here, and said: write more. Strong verse, to the "Heads" we enjoy 'em.

So that is what I am doing right now. I'm asking "why" counties employ 'em.

The "representative" said to me, "To graft we haven't a chance." And—I just (thought) of what we read.

And started to giggle and dance. I'll write one more time: (a jumble of words.)

Again, I'll expect to be hired; Or else, from a rumor we heard today.

They'll find that their "time" has "expired."

—CHARLES A. PEDDICORD.

From a Black Sheep's Pen. *They're always being caught.

(There's two sides to every story. Here's pro and con. What the author really thinks of this is the negative side of the story.)

PRO SIDE To buy things on the installment plan.

Easterners Take Option on Mines

TONOPAH, Nev. (AP)—An option on the lease and bond of the Gilbert Brothers, covering the Mammoth, Last Hope and Farrington mines, in the Gilvert district 30 miles northwest of here, has been taken by eastern capitalists, it was reported here.

A down payment has been made, it is said, and erection of a 100-ton mill is contemplated.

The district became noted about 1924 when Fred Gilbert and one of his brothers discovered the Last Hope mine.

Is a wonderful thing for the working man. You use this plan and pay with ease.

It is so nice, your wife to please. You come home at eve with a brand new rug. Your wife she greets you with a hug.

You buy for her every that and this, and Can always count on a loving kiss. You buy a home, a wonderful nest. Where she and you, can always rest.

You buy some food and clothing too. And every thing that is good for you. This is the plan so many choose. Also the plan so many use.

VICE VERSA The credit plan, portrayed in this rhyme.

Will ruin a man most every time. It would be much better to pay as you go. And not try to buy, every so and so.

One should not spend all the dollars he owns. With the mere idea, to keep up with Jones. He should use some judgment.

And not go too strong, then when Pay-day comes there'll be nothing wrong. But when you try to buy, every that and this.

Then when pay-day comes There'll be something amiss. They tell you to buy, on the installment plan. But they tell you not, of the collecting man.

Who shows up on the allotted day. When you fail to pay he takes it away. You buy these things, which you can't afford.

And have nothing left to pay your board. Your landlord finds out, that this is so. The next thing that happens out you go.

Now what I am trying to prove with. This rhyme, is this installment plan. Is an awful crime.

—BILLIE SMITH.

ON SHOOTING CRAPS Each one shot a penny when the game began.

Only one little cent, you know, just for fun. But by the time the dice got round to Bill.

Someone shouted—"Up the Hill!" After that every time, all you could hear was another dime.

He rolled like lightning smeared with grease. Then all you could hear was a two-bit piece. About this time the game got real.

The next one shot with a dollar bill. This proved to be very nice for him who got lucky. And put the game on ice.

So the game that was started just for fun proved a good bonus. For one who was best. But I do not think, had he used a cup.

That this same guy could have served it up. Then, too, the boys might have had more fun. Instead of thinking they had been done.

BRITAIN URGES ECONOMIC TALK AMONG NATIONS

LONDON. (AP)—Britain has been asking the United States, France, Germany and Italy in informal exchanges whether they were favorable to Britain's taking the initiative in calling an economic conference in accordance with the report of Paul Van Zeeland, former Belgian premier.

Great Britain and France more than a year ago commissioned Van Zeeland to study economic conditions in several countries to determine to what extent the world's troubles could be solved by eco-

INCOME TAX IS SIMPLE

'Easy' Figuring Method Told

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Have you made out your income tax return? There's only one week left.

Making out returns is a cinch, especially if you go to an internal revenue expert for help.

At least that's what one expert—a gentleman with white hair and gold-rimmed glasses—said today.

Briefly, as he put it, this is all you have to do:

First figure your "gross" income. "Gross" means total, except that the government stretches the meaning a bit in your favor. "Gross" doesn't include, for instance, things like the life insurance you get when your uncle dies.

Then the fun begins. You start deducting items to get what the government calls "net" income. You deduct the $10 you gave last year to the community chest, the $231 you paid the city on real estate taxes, the interest you paid on that note at the bank, the uninsured loss on your garage that blew down, and the $50 bad debt you gave up trying to collect.

There's one more deduction, which the experts say many salaried people fail to take. It's called an "earned income" credit. If your net income was under $3000, this credit is 10 per cent of the net. If your income was over $3000, deduct 10 per cent of either your salary or your net income—whichever is smaller—except that $300 is the minimum credit.

To figure the tax, you take—

If you are single, take off $1000 as your personal exemption. Married men get a break and can take off $2500. Every child or other dependent necessarily supported by you counts for another $400 exemption.

However, if Cousin John, who has been living off you while carefully avoiding work, is over 18 and in good health, Uncle Sam counts you a sucker and counts John nothing at all in the way of deductions.

There's one more deduction, which the experts say many salaried people fail to take. It's called an "earned income" credit. If your net income was under $3000, this credit is 10 per cent of the net. If your income was over $3000, deduct 10 per cent of either your salary or your net income—whichever is smaller—except that $300 is the minimum credit.

Social Security Tax Asked Rebated

WASHINGTON. (AP)—James H. R. Cromwell urges congress to provide for the immediate distribution of approximately $1,000,000,000 by rebating social security taxes.

The husband of the wealthy Doris Duke, tobacco heiress, urged repeal of old age benefits and unemployment insurance sections on the act.

rather, the government takes—4 per cent of what's left. If your net income minus personal and family exemptions is more than $4000, there's also a "surtax," which is not a polite manner of speaking to the collector but means "extra tax."

1191 WALKERS TRAFFIC'S TOLL

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Of California's 3139 traffic fatalities in 1937, 1191 were pedestrians.

Director Ray Ingels of the department of motor vehicles, said. Ingels has started a survey to lay the groundwork for an extended safety campaign.

When the work is completed a report will be sent to Gov. Frank F. Merriam.

"An analysis of last year's accidents shows 38 per cent of those killed were pedestrians," Ingels said.

Records of the department reveal the drunken walker presents as serious a traffic problem as

Service by Flying Boat Is Studied

NEW YORK.—Non-stop flying boat service between the United States and Europe will draw 15,000 passengers annually soon after it is established, in the opinion of W. H. Coverdale, president of American Export line. After 10 years of service it will draw 120,000 passengers, he predicts. His forecast is based on a survey made by transportation experts.

There were 217 pedestrian victims found to be under the influence of liquor when struck last year, he said. In rural districts 127 persons were killed while crossing the highways and 116 while walking along the right hand side of the road. Thirty-two were injured walking on the left hand side.

FILMS CALLED 'TRADE' BY U. S.

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The United States has established the principle that motion pictures are merchandise which should be included in trade agreements.

An exchange of letters between Assistant Secretary of State Francis B. Sayre and Czech Minister Vladimir Hruban stated the principle and said the United States and Czechoslovakia would seek to negotiate a separate agreement with regard to American films.

Paul Cubertson, assistant chief of the European affairs division, state department, will sail this week for Praha, Czechoslovakia, to negotiate it.

his last year, and police back a two-wheeled car. And the fact that if the car is long enough to be a for-stumble, it's a first time he and through the shades of plaids, checks, and satiny stripes at Broadway Billy Taub's.

"PUGS" INTO PEACOCKS

"HELLO, Ma, I'm glad I win!" pants the new champion into the microphone, and then reels away to the dressing room to contemplate the fruits of victory while his trainers massage the fatigue out of him. He is a completely happy and through the fumes of a fifty-cent cigar smoke a future which is his. Fame is his, radio contracts, the nonce around him, and then, nor deter brass of the will suits from Billy to Pea-likes to fit he're vain," he've got reason they look like he're healthy and lines to show, matter, so do my men. I know I take the ed by prominent offer them to my which is nationwide, other materials at popular ees. They eat 'em up. I don't guarantee to make any like he had a 38 waist a 46 regular, but a suit cut on athletic will make him look less of Idaho potatoes."

says Mr. Taub: "Jack Dempsey is the most symmetrically built man I ever tailored and, of course, he's a pleasure to dress. But because he's so symmetrical, you don't realize what a wonderful figure he has when you see him in street clothes. A lot of people used to crack wise when they saw him in the ring for the first time, and say they'd never guess he was hiding such a swell figure under coat and pants. Jack used to run to pretty classy effects, but marriage and the restaurant business have made him more conservative, and now he wears a Tuxedo like nobody's business."

Explosion in Los Angeles Slated for Saturday, Feb. 5

The men of Los Angeles and vicinity may not be particularly interested in the explosions now being heard by the war shells in China but we'll guarantee the bomb-shell about to be let loose by The Famous Department store will awaken them. The Famous announces they are staging a Sale Blast on Saturday, Feb. 5th that should rock Southern California in sensational fashion. A sale that offers the finest group of suits ever made in a single cash purchase in the history of their suit department. 1000 brand New Spring Suits purchased from the huge surplus Billy Taub, famous York clothier. These were bought at a sacrifice to will be played one day only. An almost unheard-of since it parallels the day wholesale costs of Billy Taub's.

Says Billy Taub, "I've never tailored a suit before because I'm a tailor. I see him in street lot of people used wise when they the ring for the and say they'd was hiding suit under coat used to effect rest."

Bees

Honey-raising is one industry where the livestock does all the work—and as neat and efficient a job as you'd ever want. So bee-keeping ought to be a cinch. But it isn't, because the very efficiency and ambition of the workers keep apiarists as busy as their bees.

If bees were left to their own resources, they'd store up a hive-full of honey, leave a few thousand workers and eggs behind and "swarm" to a new home.

That's one of the things that keeps bee-keepers' hands full. They "steal" excess honey from the beehive, thus keep their charges from building up a big enough surplus to permit them to swarm. If they didn't do it, biggest part of their stock would move on to greener fields, and probably to some place where they couldn't be found.

Bee-keeping is a business with half a dozen Orange county ranchers, a hobby with several dozen more. Anyone who starts an apiary stays so fascinated he wouldn't be likely to quit, since keepers insist there's nothing in nature to equal a colony of bees.

Local apiaries are divided into colonies, each of which has its own queen, works as a separate entity and never fraternizes with neighboring colonies. Number of bees to a colony varies from about 20,000 during winter to 70,000 in summer.

If you don't think bees are busy, have a look at these figures: It takes 30,000 trips into an orchard for a bee to bring back enough nectar to make a pound of honey. And last year Orange county colonies averaged 150 pounds. One colony brought in 38 pounds in two days.

Biggest bee-man in the county is Gerald Twombly, Fullerton, who keeps 2300 colonies, ships majority of his honey away. C. E. Lush of Orange is only bee-keeper who caters heavily to the county's trade.

There's no lost motion in a beehive, and keepers' only job is to coordinate the thing to suit his own purpose: To keep the number of cells for eggs and cells for honey balanced so he'll have enough bees to produce the maximum amount of surplus honey.

Each kind of bee has its own job. Only thing the queen does, for instance, is to lay eggs. She'll live as long as five years, lay up to 1500 eggs a day (three times her own weight), dropping one in a different bees-wax cell every 10 seconds.

Since average life of a worker bee is about 45 days during the busy season, six months during winter, each queen must produce

FRUIT EXPERTS ON PROGRAM OF INSTITUTE

National and state authorities on citrus problems will be speakers at the annual California Citrus Institute to be held in San Bernardino March 22 in conjunction with the annual Orange Show, it was announced today.

Speakers will include such authorities as C. C. Teague, president of the California Fruit Growers exchange; Dr. J. M. Thompson of the bureau of agricultural economics at Washington, D. C.; Dr. L. D. Batchelor of the college of agriculture's citrus experiment station at Riverside, and E. D. Patterson grower and chairman of the citrus department of the San Bernardino farm bureau.

In the afternoon speakers will include W. R. Schomover, extension specialist in citriculture; H. J. Wilder, San Bernardino farm advisor; Edward Hagen, Monta Vista Citrus Association; Dr. A. M. Boyce, citrus experiment station, and E. T. Cassel, Exchange Orange Products Company.

The institute will be directed by R. O. Price of Upland, head of the citrus department of the state farm bureau.

around 300,000 bees in the course of a year.

Bees live entirely on honey (energy-giving carbohydrate) and grow on pollen (a protein). Takes a pound of pollen and a pound of honey to grow a pound of bees. Actual substances gathered from flowers are pollen and nectar, which runs only 60 per cent honey. Bees evaporate it down to pure honey by keeping the hive warm, then fanning the nectar with their wings.

Commercial production of honey is worked like this: Bees are propagated in a two-story hive (two lug boxes, with one of the bottoms out), then a third story is added when a honey-flow starts. A wire "separator" at the bottom of the third story keeps the queen from getting into the upper part to lay eggs, yet lets the workers get through to store honey.

When the upper story is filled with honey it's taken out, the cell-caps planed off, honey shaken from the cells by centrifugal force, gathered and canned. It takes a colony of bees from 36 to 48 hours to build a 5000-cell framework out of bees-wax, fatty glandular secretion produced by stuffing on honey, then resting 30-odd hours.

Bees work 8 or 9 hours a day, running in shifts that keep going until 1 or 2 a. m. when honey is flowing freely. They usually work up to a mile and a half away from the hive, then cover a three-mile radius. Each apiary has groups of 100-odd colonies scattered all over the county, pays citrus grower rent, sometimes in honey, for the privilege of parking bees on their property.

Most local apiarists keep dark-colored Caucasian bees, get breeding stock from some eastern specialists by paying $5 or $10 for a queen. One queen will produce enough other queens for the whole apiary, though. It takes 15 days for a royal egg to hatch a queen bee, 21 days to hatch a worker.

Bee-keepers often get stung, get so they don't pay much attention to stings. Workers die within a few minutes after they use their

Easy Fishing

There's something gained in every loss—maybe. At any rate, the fishing was better on the Magill lawn after the flood than it has even been before. Miss Julia Magill is shown above with a sizable carp that she found floundering in the grass when the waters subsided.

Chemists Dish It Out But Catfish, Carp Can Take It

Channel catfish and carp may dislike chlorine in their water, but those in the Santa Ana river are evidently managing to survive the chemical diet.

Sewage plants along the Santa Ana river from San Bernardino south to the ocean have been out of commission for a week now, and in some communities along the line hundreds of pounds of chlorine are being dumped into the sewage. The chlorine naturally is mixing with river water.

R. L. Shoen, with the state fish and game department at Terminal Island, reported that few fish have died in the river.

Salt water fish have thus far escaped the chlorine by remaining at a long distance from shore.

REHABILITATION RULES OUTLINED

The Red Cross will take care of property losses which are of vital need to refugees unable to take care of such damage themselves, officials said today.

For example, the organization will replace an automobile lost in the flood if the vehicle is necessary for earning the livelihood of the loser.

On the other hand, if the car was merely used for pleasure, the Red Cross cannot assist in obtaining another. This rule extends to houses, household furnishings, farm equipment and nearly every conceivable item, including livestock. In the case of a house destroyed by the flood, costing say $10,000, the Red Cross will not re-build a structure worth the same amount of money. Rather, a place would be erected that would cost less money than this, which would meet the needs of the stricken family.

stingers, only do it to protect their hive, while a queen will sting only another queen, and drones (good only for mating with a queen), can't sting at all. Main poison of a bee sting is formic acid.

Though the recent flood struck the most disastrous blow ever felt by local apiaries, a bee-keeper's biggest worry ironically is a dry season, which means scarcity of nectar.

GUEST STARS PERFORM WITH J.C. ORCHESTRA

Presenting Pianist Dorothy Pratt and Baritone William Dillingham as guest artists, the 70-piece Fullerton Junior College symphony orchestra will give its annual concert tonight in the school auditorium.

Miss Pratt will play Grieg's renowned "Concerto In A Minor" with the orchestra; Dillingham will sing the Toreador song from Bizet's Carmen, and "Hills of Home" by Fox.

An unusually effective arrangement of Grieg's "Morning Mood" will highlight the concert. An obligatory of colorful lights will play around the descriptive orchestration. Effects will be directed by Earl Dysinger.

Director Harold Wahlberg will call the full artistry of the group into play with the magnificent "Overture of 1912" by Tchaikovsky. Miss Myrtle Klahn at the organ console will lend strength and body to the orchestra for the majestic finale movements of the piece.

The concert will open with Coleridge-Taylor's "Suite Minnehaha" based on Longfellow's romantic poem, Hiawatha.

Acting as community hostesses will be Mrs. E. E. Smith, Mrs. Margaret Buttner, Mrs. Walter Ross, Mrs. Albert Launer, Mrs. Allen Compton, Miss Mary Campbell, and the college hostesses, Mrs. Esther Litchfield, Denver Gardner will act as commentators.

Flood Emergency Work Related

Rodney Bacon, originator of the county's major disaster committee, and Sheriff Logan Jackson, chief administrator of the program, told fellow Lions club members yesterday of emergency work done during last week's flood.

Bacon was chairman of a Lions committee which first proposed the major disaster setup last year. The program later was approved by county supervisors.

S. T. Brown, Harold Nelson and Eddie Sudgen were inducted as new members by Ray Adkinson.

Dance Nets Funds For Red Cross

Red Cross flood relief funds were swelled today by $35.70, proceeds of a dance given by the American Legion where Billy Smith's Venetian orchestra donated its services.

The money was to be turned over to the Red Cross fund by Legion officers.

Revivalist

REV. H. L. DAVIS

Last four services of the revival campaign which has been conducted at the Foursquare Gospel church at Fairview and Sycamore streets for the past month by Evangelist Harold Davis and his sister Edna will be held tonight, tomorrow night and Sunday morning and evening.

Baptism by immersion will take place this evening at the services conducted by Evangelist Davis and the Rev. Alice Ann Parham. Tomorrow night another all-request music program starting at 7:30 will be given at the church. The Sunday morning sermon topic will be "The Spiritual Crawfish," and at the last service Sunday evening, "This Year Thou Shalt Die."

Chairman Praises 'Swing Into Spring' Hostesses

Leonard Hurst, chairman of the chamber of commerce "Swing Into Spring" committee, today praised the efforts of the Ebelle club hostesses who yesterday took hundreds of guests through the various business establishments of Santa Ana.

Yesterday was the opening of the three-day spring showing celebration of new stocks.

The Ebelle finance committee, which worked jointly with the chamber of commerce in planning yesterday's hostess event, are as follows: Mrs. Hugh Shields, chairman; Miss Maude McFadden, Mrs. Harold Segerstrom, Mrs. L. W. Blodgett, Mrs. B. J. MacMullen,

Spring Hostess at Journal

Guests at The Journal yesterday during the "Swing-into-Spring" observance were greeted and escorted through the plant by Mrs. A. G. Flagg, who was one of the numerous Ebelle club members who acted as hostesses in downtown store and business establishments.

More than 100 persons, guests of Mrs. A. G. Flagg, visited the Santa Ana Journal offices and newspaper publishing plant during the opening day of the "Swing-into-Spring" event celebrated yesterday by approximately 75 business firms throughout the city. Mrs. Flagg was one of a number of Ebelle club hostesses who showed

Radio to Carry Birthday Program For Girl Scouts

Santa Ana Girl Scouts and their friends are invited to hear a special nationwide radio broadcast at their headquarters building, 811 Riverine street, next Saturday between 3:35 and 4 o'clock in observance of the 26th anniversary of the founding of the organization.

Mrs. Paul Rittenhouse of New York, national director and Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth of Montclair, N. J., vice chairman of the board of directors, will be among the prominent speakers on the program.

The Girl Scout movement was organized in 1912. The simple story of the founding in Savannah, Ga., will be among the subjects discussed.

POSTMASTER IS TOASTMASTER

Postmaster Sam Long of Tustin took first honors at the Smedley chapter of Toastmasters meeting Wednesday evening at Daniger's cafe. His topic, "The Worm Turns," was a criticism of those who had criticized his previous speeches.

Dr. W. L. Jolivet took second place with the timely advice to "Tone Up." Other speakers were Fred Walker, Dr. K. K. Buell and Jim Wright. Two members of the Laguna chapter, Joseph French and Emil F. Wickman, were guest speakers. Other guests included George C. Perkins and H. C. Cameron.

A nominating committee, composed of George DeRouillac, Walter Ferris and Eugene Kruger, was appointed. They will recommend officers for the organization who are to take office April 1. J. Lee Woods acted as toastmaster with Dr. J. P. Davis, W. W. Cadwallader, R. C. Smedley, W. O. Mendenhall, Robert Scove and David Cherry as critics.

Mrs. S. B. Kaufman, Mrs. Hazel Maag and Mrs. Chester Warren. Hostesses, not mentioned previously, who served yesterday, were as follows: The Mesdames L. W. Blodgett, M. M. Holmes, Roy Shaffer, Charles McDaniel, Susie Rutherford, James Harding, C. M. Deakins, Carlton Smith, Lynn Crawford, C. V. Newman, Dixon Tubbs, H. T. Duckett, E. E. ### SAFETY BOARD CALLS FOR AID IN PROBLEM

Plans for School To Be Discussed

How will Santa Ana residents end the auto death toll in this community?

This will be the question under discussion next Monday afternoon in the city council chambers when representatives of more than a dozen civic and service organizations will meet with the city traffic safety commission and subcommittees. Chairman Elmer Heidt also extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend.

Persons who will lead the discussion include Superior Judges H. G. Ames and James L. Allen, Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison, Mayor Fred C. Rowland, City Atty. Lew Blodgett, Councilman Ernest Layton, Capt. H. C. Meehan of the highway patrol, George Hubbard and others.

One matter which will be the center of attention is the proposed traffic school. A report on dangerous intersections in Santa Ana is to be presented with the idea of eliminating these through a course of action suggested at the meeting.

EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN

Another subject which may be brought forward is a traffic safety month, suggested by Chairman Heidt. He expressed the belief that such a month might well be observed in the public schools where pupils would be encouraged, through offering of prizes, to present short talks on the subject.

Before a traffic school can be placed in operation an instructor must be appointed. Lieutenant B. A. Hershey has been suggested as a candidate for the job. Hershey, traffic commission officials point out, has been an ardent worker for traffic safety conditions here.

Other points will be brought before the group as the occasion suggests.

SCHOOL HEADS BACK HOME

Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson and Lynn H. Crawford, principal of Santa Ana high school, have returned from the east where they attended the National Education Association convention meeting at Atlantic City. Rolla Hayes, member of the school board, who accompanied them, has not yet returned.

Henderson also was present at the Progressive Education association convention at New York City and the National Association of Junior Colleges conclave in Philadelphia. While in the east, he met M. G. Jones, school principal from Huntington Beach, who is president of the National Secondary School Principals' association.

A.A.U.W. Will Elect New Officers

An extremely full evening was experienced last night by members of the American Association of University Women here, who combined a program on music, politics, club and world affairs with many important business projects, chief among which were plans for the group's annual benefit bridge party to be given at the Ebelle clubhouse March 26.

At the request of Miss Mabel Whiting, president, Miss Anna Trythall, general chairman of the party, outlined arrangements to date, and stressed the fact that reservations for tables should be made by calling Mrs. Hiram Currey at 2838.

Earlier Miss Katherine Budd, music chairman, had introduced Miss Olive Schweitzer, who presented three charming piano solos. Miss Mabel McFadden, program chairman, then introduced Mrs. M. E. Geeting, prominent clubwoman, who has recently returned from attending a conference on the cause and cure of war at Washington, D. C. She was delegate of several Orange county organizations, among which was the A. A. U. W.

She outlined points considered at the convocation in highly stimulating fashion, and then Mrs. John Tesmann presented. In her customary capable fashion she presented a brilliant review of two contemporary books on China's great leader, Chiang Kai-Shek. One was "Red Star Over China" and the other, "The Strong Man of China." She recommended that both be read because together they give a nearly complete picture of the man.

Nomination of officers will occur at next month's meeting, and in consideration of this fact, a nominating committee was named. After Mrs. Robert Horn's appointment to general chairmanship, Miss Mabel McFadden, Mrs. Wendell Finley, Mrs. Charles Brisco and Mrs. Lynn Scott were named from the floor.

Dr. Helen Hopkins will be featured speaker at next month's meeting, and her talk on child psychology will be open to any interested.

Last night's session concluded with a social hour and refreshments served by Miss Lillian Dickson and Miss Lulu B. Finley.

DAUGHTERS ARE ENTERTAINED BY MRS. WELLS

The lovely home of Mrs. George R. Wells at 2020 N. Main street was opened to members of the United Daughters of the Confederacy for their meeting Thursday afternoon. The house was colorfully decorated with bouquets of sweet peas and spring flowers, anemones and ranunculi.

Mrs. William Bates of Yorba Linda, vice-president, was in the chair for the business meeting, as the president was not present. Routine business was attended to before the program of the afternoon.

"Mystery of Kings" was reviewed charmingly by Mrs. Edith Cloes who told of the book so interestingly that all present felt urged to read it also.

Stanley Kurtz, music instructor from El Modena, who has a fine baritone voice, charmed the audience with a number of old southern songs and melodies. He was skillfully accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Kurtz.

Delicious refreshments were served in dainty fashion by the hostess, Mrs. Wells, and the afternoon was acclaimed a success by the happy group attending.

EBELL BOOK REVIEW

T. H. Clegg will speak on the book "American Language" by H. L. Mencken at the meeting of Ebelle book review to be held in the clubhouse lounge next Tuesday at 2 p. m. Hostesses will be the Mesdames Edith Cloyd, W. W. Hoy and J. A. Stebbins.

About Folks

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McFadden and Mrs. Tom A. Robertson, the latter from Simi, have returned from a six weeks' trip to Mexico.

Mrs. Anna James, 204½ South Sycamore street, received word yesterday of the death of her only sister, Mrs. Effie Jacques of Mill City, Pa.

Mrs. F. Y. Gladney of St. Louis, Mo., has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hart, 1714 North Broadway, for several days. Mrs. Gladney is a sister of Mrs. Hart, and was delayed several days in getting here by the flood.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Utt of Lemont Heights plan to leave next week on a six-week trip to Florida. They will stop in southern Texas to tour among the orange groves of the Rio Grande valley.

Dr. and Mrs. E. F. Muscous have had as house guests at their home, 2111 North Ross street, Dr. and Mrs. A. McPhail of Fargo, N. D., who plan to make their home at Las Casitas apartments in Santa Ana.

Mrs. Frank Borg left Wednesday for her home in Missoula, Mont., after spending the past several weeks visiting her mother, Mrs. James Simpson, and her sister, Mrs. W. H. Harrison.

Mrs. Arthur Wade returned to her home at 1532 West Washington street yesterday after spending the past two months visiting her family in Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mead, 2119 North Main street, were visited for the past several weeks by their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Mead of Seattle, who left yesterday for a short visit in Los Angeles prior to returning to their home in the north.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Hansen and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Humphrey have gone to Yosemite to enjoy the winter sports for a week.

Mrs. Mattie Edwards of Placentia, president of the Santa Ana parlor of Native Daughters of the Golden West, is ill at her home this week.

Happy Birthday

Today The Journal congratulates the following on their birthday anniversaries: GUY T. MATICS, 1249 South Van Ness street. A. C. MUNSELE, 1147 South Broadway. J. E. SIMS, 1237 South Van Ness street.

MRS. ELMER STEFFENSON, 1018 North Olive street. JOEL OGLE, 1613 French street. JAMES UTT, 2140 North Ross street.

HOSTESS FETED IN NEW HOME BY GUESTS

Mrs. Lyle A. Pease entertained a little group of friends yesterday afternoon in her attractive new home at 1442 South Ross street, and was pleasantly surprised when they arrived bringing a lovely pottery gift with which to supplement its prettiness.

Anemones and daffodils were decorations, and with sewing the afternoon's diversion, a door prize was presented Mrs. Walter Tomlinson.

Present were Mrs. Harvey Bear, Mrs. Arthur Beckman, Mrs. Joe Branson, Mrs. J. W. Carlson, Mrs. W. R. Crothers, Mrs. Don Newman, Mrs. Howard Melvian, Mrs. D. Pringle, Mrs. Carl Raymond, Mrs. Max Struck, Mrs. Jane Wiley and Mrs. Walter Tomlinson, with the hostess.

MRS. WITT IS HOSTESS IN NEW HOME

Entertaining a group of girlhood friends who enjoy reunion parties every two or three months, Mrs. Herbert Witt was hostess yesterday afternoon in her pretty new home on North Olive street.

Small luncheon tables were centered with stock and freesia on shamrock cloth, the lovely flowers being the gift of Mrs. Henry Hayes.

Present were Mrs. John Cupitill, Mrs. E. A. Wakeham and Mrs. Jack Martin of Garden Grove; Mrs. Frank Connolly of Los Angeles; Mrs. Robert DuBois of Orange; Mrs. Harry Hayes; Mrs. Emily Pyle; Mrs. Emma Mosen; Mrs. Oscar Kurtz; and Mrs. Evelyn Witt, who assisted her mother in serving.

IOWANS ARE COMPLIMENTED

Miss Amy Smith was hostess at an informal dinner last evening, feting houseguests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Smith, 422 West Santa Clara street.

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Rafferty of Oskaloosa, Iowa, were honored guests, and the affair at Dangle's featured pleasant reminiscences.

DISTRICT MEET IN BERDOO ATTENDED

Native Daughters of the Golden West met in San Bernardino Wednesday for a district get-together in honor of Mrs. Ethel Begley of San Francisco and Mrs. Edna Briggs of Sacramento, grand first vice.

Members of district 31 which is composed of Santa Ana parlor, Grace parlor of Placentia, Ontario and Lugonia parlors of San Bernardino took up a silver offering amounting to about $15 for flood relief work. Lugonia parlor was hostess to the rest of the group.

Eva Bemis, supervising deputy grand; Muriel Bray of Santa Ana, Evelyn Shaddock and Isabel Graves of San Bernardino, were deputies present who were also honored during the meeting.

Oranges and jonquils were the floral decorations used when guests gathered at the California hotel in San Bernardino Wednesday night to honor at a dinner meeting, Hazel Hansen of Verdugo parlor of Glendale, and Mary Norberg, grand trustee, from the California parlor in Hollywood, and Evelyn Towne, grand trustee from Taft, and a past grand president, Grace Stoetner.

Present from Santa Ana were the Mesdames C. H. Farrar, C. B. Hill, Preston Turner and Minnie Besser, while the dining room was in charge of the Mesdames James Allen, Carolyn Thompson, Mrs. McCain and Miss Susan Cloyes. Mrs. Noel Berry greeted guests from the doorway. Bouquets of lovely spring flowers were on the luncheon tables.

The Guild will meet each Wednesday evening during Lent after the mid-week services for an evening of sewing. Fifteen members were present at the after service meeting this week at which Mrs. John Taylor, president, presided.

Mrs. Clare Bond of 2019 Valencia drive was hostess this week to fellow members of the executive board of the associated women of the First Methodist church.

A delicious luncheon was served, with Mrs. C. E. Burns as assistant hostess, and spring flowers as table decorations. In the absence of Mrs. George Ames, Mrs. E. D. Froeschle presided over the business meeting at which time reports of the district women's circles were heard, and the Rev. Dr. Calvin Holman and Mrs. Holman each made brief talks.

Present were the Mesdames Joe Randall, Claude Foxness, San Jose, Calif.; Arthur Kitchell, W. H. Franke, R. I. Matthews, Ruth Walker, the two hostesses, and Miss Mary Lamb.

MRS. WARD IS HOSTESS

A delicious covered-dish meal at a table centered with shamrocks and striking double daffodils, yesterday by members of Mrs. Ida Ward's club when she entertained in her home at 602 East Chestnut street.

Special guests for the day were Mrs. George Spaulding and Mrs. Hester Merrifield. Members present were the Mesdames H. O. Garlock, Alva MacMullen, Hulda Yackel, Florence Hicks, Sadie Patton, Edna Wells, Herman Smith and Parke Ash.

CARDS ENJOYED AT WEBB HOME

Dainty pink and white were used exclusively in bowls of stock and snapdragons last night when Mrs. Warren Webb was hostess to a group of friends.

The same hues were repeated in refreshments and tallies. Guests present were the Mesdames Roy Yoder, Everett Montgomery, Paul Tatton, Everett Kingsbury, B. A. Hershey, Ned Cook, Dorcas Hendrie and Mae Luckie.

First and second high prizes went to Mrs. Kingsbury and Dorcas Hendrie.

Mental Patients Number 21,000

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—Total population of seven mental hospitals, under the jurisdiction of the state department of institutions, is 21,252 according to director Harry Lutgens.

This compares with 20,504 at this time in 1937. Commenting on capacity of the institutions Lutgens said: "While the normal capacity of the mental hospitals on January 31, 1938, was 16,173 as compared with 15,460 on January 31, 1937, the percentage of excess population remained at 32 per cent."

Author Promises New Biblical Work

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Dr. Edgar J. Goodspeed, author of a translation of the Bible into modern English, will soon begin a translation of the Apocrypha, the books between the old and new testament which included in the recognized canon on the scriptures, he told a University of Chicago alumni club here last week.

Dr. Goodspeed, who retired last year from the University of Chicago theological school, said it would be the first translation of the apocryphal books in 400 years.

River Flows Over Variety of Sands

NANAIMO, British Columbia, (AP)—The Fraser river flows through soil from all parts of the world. Old sailing ships used to dump their ballast when they took on salmon cargoes, and R. B. Payne, a fishing company executive, says he can identify red sands from the Mersey, gray sands from Sydney harbor and blue clays from Rio de Janeiro.

ALTAR SOCIETY MEETS

St. Joseph's altar society members met in the school hall Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Robert Sandon, president, presiding. An interesting talk by Father O'Brien was heard. Plans were made by the altar society to hold a food sale sometime before Easter. No refreshments were served because of the Lenten season.

EDISON WOMEN HEAR SCHOOL BOOKS PROGRAM

An interesting evening for Edison women was arranged by Lucile Knight who was in charge of the library program given in the Santa Ana Division office at 208 North Main Tuesday.

Mrs. Mabel Faulkner, chief librarian of Orange, spoke about the first books that were printed for school children. In the advance of education she mentioned that there were three types of books prominent in the schools. The first of these was called the horn book, so named because of the thin plate of horn covering used to protect the reading matter. These books somewhat resembled a paddle with writing on the front and back, no pages as we have now. In the handle a small hole had been bored through which a leather thong, a tough string, or sometimes even a chain was drawn to be worn around the child's waist so that he would always have his book with him when he came to school. These horn books had the alphabet, prayers and words taught the children of those days, inscribed on them.

The second of these three books was known as "chaps," so called because of the Chapman peddlers. These had pages and looked a great deal like the books we have today, only they are much smaller.

Mrs. Faulkner talked of her work picturesquely and fluently describing her subject. She answered any question that guests had in mind about libraries. She also gave the titles of several books to read, dealing with the service of electricity, and also suggested some of the "best-sellers" of today.

Recently three girls were employed by the company and at this March meeting they were formally introduced as Miss Marjorie Lynn, home economist; Miss Josephine Honik and Miss Pauline Riley, typists.

Jo Hodson prepared a "five-minute" speech presenting the type of work which the Edison Distributing System performs, the department in which she has worked for the past few years after being transferred to Santa Ana from the Long Beach district. In the recent flood situation she drew a vivid picture of the responsibility and preparedness of each workman in the field.

Near the close of the meeting the Edison women presented a J. J. Hodson, an employee of twelve years standing, with an electric waffle iron, a sirup pitcher and a waffle batter pitcher as a farewell gift to her upon her retirement.

The April meeting will be in charge of Ruth Riley, Martha Johnston and Kay Logan, committee for Debates and Dramatics.

Graceful white calla lilies and white snapdragons mingled with green fernery carried out St. Patrick colors when Mrs. Harry Pickard entertained her sewing circle this week.

A potluck luncheon was enjoyed before the group spent a busy afternoon mending socks and overalls to be given flood refugees.

Present for the affair were Mrs. William Hart, Mrs. Van Leonard Brown, Mrs. Charles Spurrier, Mrs. James Wylie, Mrs. John Cleary, Mrs. Olga Wood, Mrs. Ed Redford, Mrs. Frances Thatcher, Mrs. Doris Murphy, Mrs. Pickard and little Jimmie Wylie.

Mary Stoddard Young Couple Worry Over In-Laws' Views About Their Social Problem Solution

When is a problem not a problem? I should say that one illustration is when a husband and wife work out their own solution to a certain thing to the mutual benefit or happiness of both and then worry about what relatives or friends say and think. Such is the case described by a husband who writes the following letter:

Dear Miss Stoddard: I read your column constantly, as does my wife, and we feel that you are a friend ever ready to extend a helping hand to anyone who has a problem.

Will you now help us with ours? I am 32 and my wife is 28. We have been married 10 years and have five children, the oldest being 8. My wife likes to go to dances and shows. It is impossible for us both to go together, as one has to stay with the children.

I do not care a great deal about going out in the evening as I like to be with the little ones. For the past four years

ACTIVE LIFE PROVES WORTH TO NOTABLES

Do you sometimes feel that you are "working yourself to death"? Most people who live to a ripe old age have been driven by an invincible will and an indomitable courage which has kept them active to an advanced age.

So says Oscar C. Mueller in his recently-published book, "Roads to Health and Happiness."

Mueller holds with Samuel Untermyer, distinguished New York lawyer, who says, "When one is absorbed in one's work, one loses all sense of one's age."

Titian, the great Venetian painter, died in his hundredth year. He painted great portraits during the last few years of his life.

Stradivari, the world's most famous violin maker. He died at the age of 90—three years after making his best violin.

Michelangelo, who painted "The Conversion of Saint Paul," at 76. Death stillied his brush at 89.

Goethe, tubercular in his youth, was cured and wrote some of his greatest works at an advanced age. He lived to be 83.

Verdi composed "Ave Maria" at 85, three years before he died. Tenyson wrote "Crossing the Bar" at 83.

Gen. Nelson A. Miles rode nearly 100 miles on his 84th birthday. Victor Hugo wrote "La Legende Des Siecles" at 81. Madame Schumann-Heink entered motion pictures at 74.

Adult Education News

Rain last week? Yes, but we had a lot of good classes. Welcome back, all of you who missed.

Louise Sooy was unable to get to Santa Ana last Thursday evening to give her last lecture on Costume Design in the Willard auditorium. Direct communication could not be made even by wire, therefore, no announcement can be made at this time as to when she will be with us again.

Remember! This is the week to bring your nickels, dimes and quarters for the law Junior College Student Loan Fund and our own Student Body Fund. See last week's Pep News for the detailed announcement.

Attention is called to showcase Number 4 in the front hall of the Willard school. There is a lovely display of pewter and copper pieces made by members of Mrs. Newman's class in Metal Craft which meets Wednesdays in the shop building at Willard.

Travel lectures on Tuesday evenings at the Willard auditorium are proving of interest to many. This Tuesday, March 8, Calvin Flint will give the last lecture of his series. His subject is "The Near East and the Mediterranean." The subjects of Mr. Glenn's lectures have been changed as follows: March 15, Scotland and Ireland; March 22, The Beauty of Switzerland and Austria.

Those who wish to improve their shorthand should take advantage of Mr. Perry's class each Monday evening in Room 105 of the Willard school.

Harold Jorgensen is enrolled in the typing class to renew his typing speed. He won first place in an Iowa State contest when he was in high school not long ago.

The following verse was written by Chloe Tallon of the typing class:

THE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Here and There With Southern California Artists

By DONALD BUTTON

In case you're asking— I've had my spring tonic—the Austins, Darrell and Margot! It has not been so long since it happened that you should have forgotten Darrell Austin's skyrocketing to prominence with his brilliant first-of-the-year showing at Putzel's, Hollywood.

Slightly reminiscent of Henry Botkin in his figures, alone in his jewel-like laying on of color, and still an individual, Darrell Austin is probably "painter of the year" in his sudden rise to fame.

It is all the more interesting to find that his wife, Margot Helsler, is just as strong an individual in her illustrations for fairy-tales and pictures of children.

Those Austins, how they will amaze you!

This is my story, and I'll stick to it— But not long ago these same amazing Austins went into the hills above Hollywood (where they now reside) in search of Toltec arrowheads. They came back with the bits of two very grand Archaic penko female figures, bits which bore testimony of having been exhibited from the gallery numbers still sticking to them!

This is as typical of them as the two weeks Darrell spent in New York, where the neighbors played their only record, "The Sidewalks of New York," from rising to retiring!

There are ups and downs in every life. The ups, looked forward to. The only time the downs are fun. Is when we type with you! (Downs are downward reach letters in typing.)

Miss Joanne Colbert, a recently enrolled member of the typing class, has the distinction of having been a stenographer in an insurance office in Germany for several years. She does not find it difficult to learn to use an English typewriter.

Mr. Park's class in blueprint reading is having a series of discussions on various problems relating to building. On last Wednesday the class was a guest of the Southern Counties Gas company and their Mr. Walter Ferris. Meeting at the office of the gas company the class was shown various heating appliances and enjoyed a very interesting talk on the problems of heating by Mr. Ferris. After the session the women of the Home Economics department of the gas company served coffee, sandwiches and cake.

The class in sketching and painting are having an interesting series of models, and a great deal of very good work is being accomplished. Mr. Gilbert is always on the job one-half hour ahead of everybody else to arrange his still life and special lighting arrangement for the model.

Last Thursday evening several of the classes in the Lathrop school pointed together and visited Miss Hunt's class in geography where they saw some interesting motion pictures.

The public speaking class meets Wednesdays in room 33 at the Lathrop. This week they are working on after-dinner speeches.

GUNS ROAR IN FILM AT STATE

Guns roar, bad men meet their just ends, and a roarin', tootin' time is had by all hands in the new epic of the west, "Roarin' Lead," which opened at the State theater today for a two-day run.

Three knights of the chapparal, Bob Livingston, Ray Corrigan and Max Terhune, play the masculine leads. Love interest is supplied by Christine Maple, recently selected as "Miss Long Beach" for C. B. DeMille picture.

Filling out the program will be a Three Stooges comedy, a color cartoon, another chapter of "Wild West Days," and news reel.

Every kid attending the Saturday matinee will receive a free ice-cream bar, and the management will give away 25 "Three Stooges" motion picture machines.

TRAVELS BY CHARIOT

HARIPURA, Bombay, (AP)—Subhas Chandra Bose, president-elect of the Indian National congress, scorns the modern mode of traveling. He arrived here in an 80-year-old royal chariot drawn by 51 bullocks. A crowd of 100,000 peasants welcomed him.

HUGHETT TALKS ON HOBBIES

Three diversified hobbies make up most of the recreational and business life of H. E. Hughett, owner of the Red and White store at 2204 North Main street, Santa Ana, namely baseball, poultry, and running the ever growing market.

Ten years ago Hughett started his store with an investment of $300 was charter member of the Red and White organization here. Since that time he has built his business up to where it is one of the largest stores in the group.

Though his affiliations with the Red and White organization, Hughett has been able to take advantage of lower prices and marketing information that it makes possible and in so doing he has passed it along to his customers. A well stocked grocery department, featuring a wide selection of fancy and staple foods, a fresh fruit and vegetable stand, with air conditioned vegetable racks,

WPA Ditch-Digger Makes Debut in Verdi Grand Opera

NEW YORK, (AP)—Genaro Cardinale, former WPA ditch-digger, was well received by a large audience at the Hippodrome opera house when he made his debut as Alfredo, the leading tenor role, in Verdi's "La Traviata."

Cardinale, who has shined shoes, delivered ice, peddled fruit, collected junk and sung in burlesque, went on the stage in a borrowed tuxedo and new $3 shoes. At 23, he has long been the supporting head of a family of eight and his mother.

keeping the produce fresh and crisp until time for delivery, and a complete meat department where choice cuts of all types of meat are attractively displayed, and a poultry department makes his store a desirable place to shop.

Of all the departments in the market, the poultry department is the one that I take most pride in, Hughett said. I raise my own chickens. Many of my customers wait for me to go out and gather the eggs, they feel that in that way they get the freshest eggs obtainable. It is the same with the chickens. Several of the ladies like to pick out their fryer or roaster "on the hoof."

CCC TO LOSE 291 MORE CAMPS

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Robert Fechner, Civilian Conservation Corps director, has ordered today a 291-camp reduction by July 1 to make the program fit 1938-1939 budgetary restrictions.

The reduction, Fechner said, would leave 1210 camps, 10 of which would be closed before Oct. 31. The order also involves dismissal of approximately 3000 camp officers and civilian officials.

Fechner said the shutdown would not affect the enlisted personnel, which would be shifted to other camps.

The camps designated by the nearest postoffice which will be abandoned included: California, Glenburn, Saugus, Highland, Elsinore, Auburn, North Fork, Dunlap, Wheeler Springs, Belden, Tuolumne, Pine Grove, Three Rivers, Vacaville and Presidio of Monterey.

ENGLAND LAYS CLAIM TO ISLES

LONDON, (AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the house of commons that Sir Ronald Lindsay, ambassador to Washington, had been instructed to inform the United States government that Britain "reserves her right over the islands of Canton and Enderbury."

Chamberlain announced that "proposals will be submitted in hope of ending this controversy." It was believed some form of joint control of the two mid-Pacific islands would be proposed by Britain.

Ludlow Asks FDR For Naval Holiday

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Representative Ludlow has proposed in a resolution that congress ask President Roosevelt to suggest to other nations a naval holiday until Jan. 1, 1940.

His proposal would authorize the President to call a conference in Washington next October to discuss naval armament limitation and other matters associated with "promotion of international accord."

By HUGH CLEVELY

CHAPTER 19

After coffee had been served, Lee-Ramsden took Mahony up to the study for a cigar, leaving Ruth in the drawing-room. There Lee-Ramsden's manner changed, became altogether serious.

"This is a nasty business, Mahony, a very nasty business," he said. "I may seem rather casual about it, but I hate my ward being mixed up in it. You were a friend of young Ross, weren't you?"

"Yes," admitted Mahony.

"And Ross pretended to be a friend of Lawson. Actually he hated him—hated and feared him. I don't go about with my eyes shut, and I've noticed the way Ross looked at Lawson when he thought nobody was watching him."

It was absolute lies, of course; had noticed nothing of the kind; but he spoke very convincingly. Mahony was conscious of a new respect for the old man.

"A charming fellow, Lawson," continued Lee-Ramsden. "So handsome and cultured. And also, if I'm any judge of men, one of the most unprincipled blackguards in creation. He seems to have been bobbing up a good deal in this matter last night and this morning, doesn't he?"

He paused.

"Won't you tell me the whole story?" he asked. "I'll help you if I can. My ward is a very good reason why I should help you. I might easily be useful; I'm not altogether without brains, and even influence."

Again it was superbly acted; the old man appeared quite sincere. Mahony was quite won over. He told Lee-Ramsden the whole story. At the end of the story Lee-Ramsden's face was very stern.

"Those fellows must be crushed," he said. "Utterly stamped out. Hanging's a damned sight too good for them. I'm with you, Mahony to the last inch."

He held out his hand. Mahony took it. It was then that, for first time, Mahony noticed the curious shape of Lee-Ramsden's hands.

After Mahony had gone, Lee-Ramsden laughed. There was still an air of amusement about him when Mullins entered later in the afternoon with his tea.

"What did you think of young Mahony, Mullins?" he asked.

"A very ordinary young man, if I may say so, sir," replied Mullins.

"On the contrary, Mullins, a very extraordinary young man," said Lee-Ramsden. "He has both brains and guts. I like him. And that's a great pity, because I'm afraid he's going to die young. Do you know what I told me?"

"No, sir," said Mullins.

"He told me," said Lee-Ramsden in a shocked tone, "that the foul gang who kidnaped Miss Ruth meant to make her a drug addict, so that when they released her, she, and incidentally her money, would still be entirely under their control. Isn't that dreadful?"

"Er... yes, sir," said Mullins. He hardly seemed to know how to answer.

Lee-Ramsden laughed.

"Don't be a hypocrite, Mullins; the only dreadful part of the scheme from our point of view is that it did not succeed," he said genially. "What will be really dreadful will be if I lose control of Ruth's money when she's 21. But I don't intend to. Mullins, I don't intend to."

After leaving Lee-Ramsden's house, Mahony took the Underground to Notting Hill Gate station, and began to walk back to his lodgings. About ten yards from the station entrance a man hurrying along the pavement bumped into him somewhat roughly.

"Sorry," said the man.

He paused for a moment, looking at Mahony curiously.

"Isn't your name Mahony?" he asked. "Terence Mahony?"

"Yes," answered Mahony. "What about it?" He did not feel in the mood to chat to strangers.

"My name's Milson," said the stranger. "Andrew Milson. Don't you remember me?"

"No," answered Mahony. To the best of his knowledge he had never seen the man before in his life.

"I met you a couple of years ago, in the Shanghai Bar," said Milson confidently. "At that time I believe you were special correspondent in China for an American newspaper—the Chicago Leader."

That information was correct. Two years previously Mahony had done newspaper work for an American paper. He had also quite frequently been in the Shanghai Bar.

"I saw another chap from China the other day, too," went on Milson. "Kosoff—you knew him, didn't you? He's over here now on a visit. Very well dressed and prosperous. He introduced me to his partner, a man named Mulgrave."

Mulgrave was the man whom Mahony had held up at the pistol point to find out where Ruth was imprisoned. And Kosoff had made his living in China by exporting dope. Mahony began to be interested in Milson's conversation.

"When did you see Kosoff?" asked Mahony.

"About four days ago. He looked so prosperous that I tried to touch him for a fiver. I didn't expect to get it, of course. I was never so surprised in my life when Kosoff actually gave it to me. He also told me that if I was down on my luck and not too particular, he knew a place where I could get a job."

Milson laughed.

"Well, I am down on my luck, and I've never been very particular—as a matter of fact, I had to leave China rather suddenly—but there are some jobs that I do draw the line at, and Kosoff's are among them. He had a chat with Mulgrave about me, and Mulgrave gave me a note of introduction."

"The job was dope peddling, I suppose?" suggested Mahony. Milson nodded.

"Kosoff was quite frank about it. He knows I'm a public school man, that I've got a pretty tough record in China, and that the English police don't know me, and those are the qualifications he wanted. I took the note and thanked him because of the money, but there's nothing doing."

Mahony buys the note from Milson, tomorrow.

FARM CONTROL ELECTION SET

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Saturday's referendum on invoking marketing control provisions of the new farm law will be along the lines of a regular election.

The questions to be decided are whether growers favor imposition of marketing quotas on cotton and flue-cured and dark types of tobacco, to keep surplus yields off the market.

The agriculture department, acting through state and county farmers' committees, has established polling places on cotton and tobacco growing communities in more than 1200 counties.

Ashes of Seamen's Union Leader Consigned to Waves

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—"Take my ashes far from shore and scatter them upon the waves," was the last request of Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seamen's union, who fought for 50 years to better conditions for American seamen. He died last Jan. 22 in Washington.

Sometime next week his wish will be fulfilled.

American Federation of Labor officials here said they had arranged with a local steamship company to do his bidding.

Social Security Money Quiz Asked

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Representative Shafer (R., Mich.) has called for a congressional investigation of what he termed the treasury's "diversion" of $1,569,000,000 from the social security reserve fund to "finance New Deal spending."

The resolution would authorize the speaker of the house to appoint a committee to conduct the inquiry. The resolution asserted that, although the treasury had collected $1,662,000,000 from workers and employers in payroll taxes under the act during the past 14 months, less than $100,000 had been paid to those "insured against the hazards of old age."

Critical coffee-drinkers are not permanently "sold" by the first cup of any brand—even though it be outstanding. They are interested in what the next pound will be like...the next...and the next! When Hills Bros. first offered their coffee to the public 60 years ago, they determined never to disappoint their customers. That's why millions buy Hills Bros. Coffee again and again.

TERRY OF GIANTS TOO BUSY TO CONTINUE SCRIBES' FEUD

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Colonel Bill Terry, the magazine writer, expressed mild surprise at the observation that there didn't seem to be much of a feud going on around here between him and his rival men of letters, the sports writers.

"There never was any feud," declared Bill, taking his rest after a hard day spent putting his Giants through their training paces. "We're getting along fine. Nobody hurt. I never had anything against baseball writers as a whole. There was just one of them caused all the trouble."

But hadn't he been at times, shall we say, abrupt?" the Colonel conceded, "but only when I was very busy. I have a lot of things on my mind, and I'm not a wise-cracker. When anybody asks me a straight question, he gets the same kind of an answer. Did you ever hear of me telling a lie?"

No. "That's how I handle my team, too. Every man of them knows how to handle his job. I'm not a wise-cracker. When anybody asks me a straight question, he gets the same kind of an answer. Did you ever hear of me telling a lie?"

"Because I'm doing about four times as much work as any other manager. In addition to the Giants, I'm handling our whole farm system, five other clubs, and I haven't a big staff to help me like the Yankees have. I personally handle every deal, make every decision."

"During the season I get to the Polo Grounds by 9 o'clock in the morning and I'm seldom out of there before 8 or 9 at night. That's hard work but I love it and I'm making dough. I made out the spring exhibition schedules for four other big league clubs this year. What do you think of that?"

All of which, perhaps, does something toward clearing up the big Terry mystery. The man, whether you like him or not—and the balloting was about 50-50 at last count—really is handling a big job, and his ambition is frightful. If his Giants stay up there a few more years, there's no telling what a power he will become in baseball.

ST. PETERSBURG. (AP)—A new outfield alignment for the New York Yankees with Tommy Henrich in right field and George Selkirk in left flanking Joe DiMaggio is planned by Manager Joe McCarthy. Myrtle Ewing will play center until DiMaggio signs his contract. McCarthy believes "Selkirk can play any field" and that Henrich's great arm will cut down runners at third base.

AVALON. (AP)—Auggie Galan, the Chicago Cubs' outfielder who flopped in hitting last season, is making a great showing at the Cubs' camp. Auggie collected four hits in the game against the "Yanigans" yesterday. Two were home runs and he drove in eight runs to gladden Manager Charlie Grimm's heart.

LAKE CHARLES. (AP)—Beaten twice by the Giants, the Athletics are hopeful of climbing to the 500 mark in their two games with the Cleveland Indians Saturday and Sunday. Connie Mack is confident the A's will play better ball against the Tribe.

LAGUNA TENNIS IN 2ND ROUND

LAGUNA BEACH. — Preliminary matches of the Laguna Beach winter tennis season tournament have been completed.

Feature contest of the opening day's matches was found in the singles duel between Ted Warne and Knight, the entry from Orange. Mr. Warne won by a score of 6-2, 6-4.

Outstanding in the other singles contests was the encounter between T. A. Rippey, Jr., and Dave Gilman, in which Rippey's consistent placing game triumphed over Gilman's harder hitting to the tune of 6-3, 6-2. Byron Gaynor lost to Charles Robbins, 7-5, 6-1.

In the first, and opening doubles event, the combination of B. F. Gaynor and Win Keel lost to the veteran team of Dave Gilman and N. E. West, 6-0, 7-5.

The semi-final match, which also supplied plenty of fireworks, brought L. Babcock and Carl Klass against Kurt Perrin and Warne, former winning, 6-3, 7-5.

H. S. Grid Player Cannot Collect For Game Injury

GARNETT, Kans. (AP)—A high school football player cannot collect damages for injuries suffered on the playing field, District Judge Hugh Means held today.

Kirk Bierly sued the Westphalia, Kans., Rural High school district for $155 doctor bills and time lost by his son, Gail, injured in a game in 1935. He called high school football an "attractive nuisance" and charged it was a profit-making enterprise.

Judge Means ruled the district had no power to pay tax money for such compensation.

SCIENTISTS NOT PLEASED WITH PROGRAM

NORMAN, Okla.—Modern man has equipped himself with the scientific tools for preservation of the race—but if he is to continue on down through the ages, he's going to need some long range study of what he is doing, in order to see if his present program is going to work out for his best interests.

That is the theory of Prof. Paul Sears, head of the botany department of the University of Oklahoma, who has expressed his views in a dramatic account of world evolution and man's relation to nature in a new book, "This Is Our World," which his university publishes.

MAN'S MINOR ROLE

Man is a minor thing in relationship to nature, Prof. Sears emphasizes, and if he gets out of balance with nature, he goes as the prehistoric animals do. As examples of what men may do to harm themselves, he preaches the lesson of conservation, of acres of land turned into desert to use nature's balance has been destroyed, of how our oil reserves are being depleted.

As a spectacular issue, he even muses on the question of whether modern medicine, in preserving life, may not weaken the race as a whole, and points out that there must be some social readjustment since medicine has brought us a life span approaching 70 active years, while modern technological industry is putting the older workman, who used to be so common, out of employment and practically limiting physical work to men under 45. There, he points out, is a definite maladjustment.

RELIES ON MORALE

"Such problems can be solved only by drawing on a reservoir of our great common morale," Prof. Sears declares. "Science can bring us to the threshold but there its power ends. Achievement beyond that point lies with the creative artists of our civilization. Man is still of the earth, earthly, and still in his heart loves his spot of earth and his fellow. Let the artist see that he should be about the building of a great and lasting culture. Let him sense its possibilities, its temper and its mechanism."

'Bughouse Lab' Grows to Big-Time Museum

WASHINGTON, N. C. (AP)—The most interesting place in this town is the "Bughouse Lab," a monument to the scientific curiosity and genius of the younger generation. It is a two-story museum with highly specialized departments—the outgrowth of a low-sack tent a few boys with hobbies used to house their butterfly and snake specimens in 1923.

It has added the dignified line of "Washington Field Museum" to its title and has a full-time director, but it is still run by the youngsters.

Shelley Sea Villa To Become a Shrine

LERICI, Italy. (AP)—Shelley's last home is to be made a shrine "sacred to poetry and pilgrimages." The local governments of Lerici and La Spezia have decided to dedicate the poet's Villa Magni to that purpose. They propose diverting traffic away from the villa by a new road, building a boat landing and opening a public park planted with pines and cypress trees. It also is hoped to bring the poet's ashes to the villa. At present they are buried in the Protestant cemetery in Rome.

Sweet Potatoes Strain Improved

CLEMSON COLLEGE, S. C. (AP)—South Carolina farmers are getting from 10 to 15 cents a bushel more for their sweet potatoes, although the price in the big eastern markets is generally less than it was last season. They obtained the price boost by growing a more popular strain, more careful harvesting and marketing methods and selling the potatoes under a uniform trade name.

Florida Boom Town Asks Name Change

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Miami, tiring of its boom-time slogan, "The Magic City," wishes to become known as "Royal Poinciana City." As a step toward this goal the Chamber of Commerce asked school children to gather seeds of the royal poinciana tree. The youngsters brought in a truckload.

LIBRARY MEMBERSHIP

Oldest public library in the United States is the Library Company of Philadelphia, located at the corner of Locust and Juniper streets in the Quaker city. Benjamin Franklin originated the idea of the institution, founded in the year 1731-107 years ago.

Strange as it seems for the first few years of the library's existence such items as stuffed pelcans and snakes were accepted in lieu of membership fees!

Austin K. Gray, librarian of the company, states: "In the early days of the library-1731-61-members often found it difficult to find the hard cash to purchase a share in the Library Company. In lieu of 40 shillings, therefore, the directors accepted payment in kind; a stuffed pelican, stuffed snakes, robes of Indian sachems, an old sword dug up on a farm, a set of fossils, etc. These payments were placed on exhibition in the library as 'the Curiosities.'

"The authority for these facts is the old Minute Book of the Library, kept by Benjamin Franklin, Francis Hopkinson and others, when they were secretaries to the board and still young and unknown."

Don't Increase Gasoline Tax

A proposal to boost the state gasoline tax by one cent for one year in order to raise money for repairing flood-damaged highways, streets and bridges is being discussed by Gov. Merriam and members of the state legislature.

Sen. Harry Westover of Santa Ana wires us this information, along with a request for our opinion.

Our opinion is this—

Any increase in the state gasoline tax is both dangerous and unnecessary.

It is dangerous because of the fact that once a tax is thrown on the backs of the public—even though the original plan is to leave it for only a short while—the practice is to let it stay on forever.

Every new department and new bureau means new jobs for politicians; and it is harder to scrape a politician from a new job than it is to put the juice back into an orange.

If the state ever succeeds in loading another cent on the gasoline tax, the chances are that it will never come off and the motorist will simply be saddled eternally with another outlay.

Heaven knows he has enough already, what with a sales tax, license tax, registration tax, oil tax, tire tax, accessories tax, gasoline tax of one cent for Uncle Sam and three cents for the State of California, and what others there may be.

The example of the sales tax—which was to relieve us of a big share of county taxes—is still fresh in our mind. We paid the sales tax—and county taxes, instead of being much lower, are higher.

Not only is the proposed increase in the gasoline levy dangerous, but it is unnecessary.

We do not see why the state has to increase taxes to get funds for highway repair work.

It is already taking some $60,000,000 per year, if our memory is correct, from motorists.

This money is allotted for road maintenance and construction.

The portion that is earmarked for new construction could easily be switched to special flood damage emergency work, and the new projects held up for a while. Indeed, this is the sensible thing to do.

It would be indeed foolish, we believe, to place an extra burden on the taxpayer when such an obvious remedy is at hand.

The Journal most vigorously opposes increasing taxes.

This newspaper favors rigid economy and retrenchment in the highway department and other departments if necessary to meet the flood need.

We hope that Sen. Westover uses his influence along this line.

The Question Hour in Congress

Representative Maverick of Texas has revived a plan that many thoughtful Americans have urged in the past—that members of the President's cabinet be given the privilege of the floor of congress and that they submit to questions from congressmen.

"The legislative and executive exist in separate watertight compartments at different ends of the avenue," he told the Federal Bar association. "Congress lacks information upon which to legislate. The executive is the sole repository of such information. A combination of effort by these would certainly increase—I mean establish—the efficiency of the United States government."

Conditions in America and the world argue for closer cooperation between congress and the White House. Congress, confused over our foreign policy, could ask Secretary of State Hull to explain.

Urged to spend 800 million dollars for more big battleships, many members would like to ask Secretary of Navy Swanson why these are necessary.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace might explain what the farm bill is all about.

Attorney General Cummings could tell why the anti-trust laws don't work.

Secretary of the Interior Ickes might tell why he wants to change his portfolio to the conservation department.

Secretary of Labor Perkins could explain the alien bill.

Such contacts would not supersede committee hearings, but supplement them. And not only congress but the people would get a better idea of what was going on.

The questioning of cabinet members by the national legislature works for a more cohesive government in England.

Many, including Presidents Wilson and Taft and Chief Justice Hughes, believed it would work well here.

Why shouldn't it be tried?

Wanted: Bright Young Man

Almost every boy in America has made or is making an airplane model. Somebody or young man now building his first crude model or flying an engine "super deluxe" miniature craft will undoubtedly give to aviation the thing it most greatly needs.

And that is an airplane that will travel at great speeds when aloft, but will land safely at a very low speed (the nearer vertical the better).

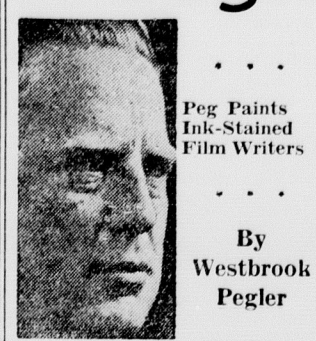

The Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, composed of model-making boys of previous decades, met in New York recently and unanimously admitted that that is the main problem of aviation at present.

Progress is being made in increasing the cruising speeds of gyroplanes, but the principle has not yet been adapted to the great sky cruisers. Emergency landings are still very much a gamble.

The world waits for the coming of a special genius. Never yet has it waited in vain.

Is there any moral in the fact that the Santa Anita race track escaped damage in the flood?

FAIR Enough

Peg Paints
Ink-Stained Film Writers

By Westbrook
Pegler

LOS ANGELES.—The ink-stained wretches who drew from $200 to $2000 a week for writing moving picture plays have ruined many old friendships in the interests of compulsory harmony. This is not a unique experience, for members of other trades of more or less intellectual kind who joined sewing circle unions a few years ago have discovered themselves drinking in two distinct groups at far ends of the old saloon—the bolos at the extreme left—and glaring at one another in the mirror.

Although it is no libel to call a man a Liberty Leaguer in this country, or even a Republican, it is rather oddly a serious offense to call a Communist a Communist. Communists, for some reason, resent being called Communists, and the most that may be said prudently is that they reveal Communist sympathies.

This is the most that may be said of a number of diligent individuals whose membership in the Screen Writers' Guild of the Authors' League has driven a band of other writers, including some former guilders, into a rival or defensive union and a number of others into a no-man's land between the two camps.

UNDERCOVER COMMUNISTS

Unquestionably there are undercover Communists in the writing business here who would like to impose the closed shop and, by adroit but recognizable methods, exclude from the screen ideas contrary to their own.

The dissenters may have been unnecessarily alarmed, overestimating their influence, but, in any case, it was to prevent regimentation and the political discipline of ideas that they formed the Screen Playwrights' Assn., which is now called a house union. Radicals are rather free with their use of such words as "fink," "sneak," "legitimate defense," and a number of others into a no-man's land between the two camps.

James K. McGuinness, who wrote sport for $90 a week on the old Evening Telegram in New York and now gets $1500 a week for writing dramas in Hollywood, was one of the organizers of the screen writers' guild. He broke away and joined the screen playwrights in resentment against the authority of the authors' league of New York and certain peculiarities of the constitution. Dudley Nichols, also an old reporter, is now president of the screen playwrights and is himself no radical, but only a liberal.

MR. NICHOLS SPEAKS

However, when asked whether there are Communists in the guild, Mr. Nichols unerringly calls the roll of the very ones who are commonly known as writers of Communist sympathies. He insists, undoubtedly with truth, that he does not know this or that one's politics and is not interested because one's politics are none of the guild's business.

Aside from their aversion to unity with active, untiring radicals and their suspicion of everything they do in union matters, the rebellious writers absolutely refuse to consider a closed shop or even that modern subterfuge, the guild shop.

They also cite an article in the constitution which empowers guild meetings to levy assessments on their salaries, based upon earnings which "need not be uniform but may be levied on ability to pay." In such manner as the executive board, with the concurrence of a majority of the active members who vote thereon, shall see fit.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

Special attention is directed to the fact that this may be done by a majority of the active members "who vote thereon." This is quite different from the majority of all the active members.

It is also provided that any member whom the executive board deems guilty of conduct prejudicial to the welfare of the league or the guild may be expelled—a death sentence under closed or guild shop. Under certain conditions, not beyond imagining, if the Communists or the Fascists should obtain a closed shop or guild shop, and a working majority, conduct prejudicial to the league or guild might consist of a politically offensive scenario.

True, means of appeal are provided, but the delay of vindication conceivably could cost the defendant member much at $1500 or $2000 a week. And, in any case, a majority is empowered to silence the greatest living writer who might be right through a minority of one against all the rest. Of course, the same applies to the worst living writer. There is a tempting thought in that.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK.—Look at the barometer before you try to predict an earthquake.

If the barometer is rising, the next quake is likely to be on land. If falling, look to the sea for a shake.

Discovery of the barometer's connection with seismic tremors has just been made in New Zealand by R. C. Hayes. There, for six years, he watched the barometer in connection with earthquakes.

Two hundred quakes showed a direct connection between the seismic disturbances and the barometer, that is, the weight of the air. A rising barometer means the air is growing heavier; falling, that it is getting lighter. Although man cannot feel the changes in weight they are enormous, ranging within half a pound to the square inch.

Hayes found that earthquakes on land frequently followed a high barometer by about two days. The timing was not so exact in the sub-sea shakes. But more of them happened when the barometer was falling.

There is confirmation for Hayes' discovery in the new super-sensitive seismographs. They register tremors due to changes in atmospheric pressure. These tremors are not earthquakes. But they show it is possible for air pressure to act as a trigger to set off a seismic disturbance.

Helping to teach outdoor short-hand classes, giant characters are displayed to classes for a few seconds in a novel visual education method. The demonstration involves a simplified shorthand which some educators believe may become a universal writing method. The simplified writing is based upon the corresponding longhand letters but utilizes only sufficient characters to serve as a memory guide.

The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is active, the politicians and people sit up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent fair discussion of our problems is immensely useful. So that every citizen may have his say and contribute to the formation of public opinion, The Journal invites letters to The Mailbag. Please limit communications to 350 words.

A NEW PARTY

To the Editor: Commenting on your article "Third Party Opportunities" in the March 2 Journal, there is a "world" of difference between the new Townsend party and Teddy Roosevelt's Bull Moose party and Bob LaFollette's Progressive party, both of which were mere political agitations boosted by their leaders during far different economic and financial conditions than now prevail under "repression" depression which fails to show improvement and is crowding the nation deeper into debt and increasing taxes after all the various alphabetical experiments since 1933 find the nation rapidly losing ground.

If the Townsend party cannot win merely because Teddy and Bob failed, then there can never again be anything but Democrat and Republican parties. In fact, for the same illogical excuse, there never would have been any other political parties except the one in power at the beginning of our nation's history.

The Townsend party is not a "third party." It is a NEW PARTY to take charge of our nation and operate it for the welfare of all the people in accordance with the constitution, instead of being controlled and operated for the special benefit of a few regardless of the needs of the masses. It is called into being by the failure of both "old parties" to keep the ship of state sailing smoothly, and the populace is becoming so tired of all the fair promises and makeshift trial and error (especially error) experiments that have wasted the past recent years with nothing to show except an enormous increase in the national debt and the dole and boondoggling morale weakening methods that are becoming more and more distasteful to the virile manhood of America.

FLOOD VICTIM

To the Editor: It was 4 a. m. I heard a gurgle outside my bedroom window. It was a pleasant sound, like water running over pebbles in a brook. Then I smelled oil, like kerosene. I wondered if my husband had left the generator of the Coleman on. Sharply the telephone rang. I hastened to answer it. "The Santa Ana river is in your back yard," a voice informed me calmly. It was the nurse on duty at my neighbor's. I slipped on the oil and fell. Running to the door, I found in emergency, it was out. The light from my neighbor's breakfast room shone across the murky waters. I looked down and saw the board walk that had been in the back yard sail past the door.

Soon it was dawn. Vainly the sun tried to pierce the gray of the morning. High above our heads on the telephone pole, sat a mockingbird. His notes were sweet and clear above a world of tragic reality. Grotesque designs of oil in pale blue, lavender and purple floated on the surface of the water. Fuel from the smudge pots in the groves near by gradually the water "needed." The next morning disclosed an inch of silt, deposited evenly on our acre of ground, smooth and glassy, like the frosting on a cake. One could take a piece of it and roll it neatly and firmly, like a jelly roll. The following day the adobe-like layer of silt began breaking into pieces of odd shapes, about a yard across. Then it began to change from a dark brown to the color of concrete. Every day it is breaking up into smaller sections that look like crockery. The drying process continues.

Now the hardened adobe is separating into layers that look for all the world like a stack of odd-shaped plates. Today they are smaller. Gradually they will disappear. So will the tragic thing that has come to our beautiful Southland for a day for some of us.

Very different, however, for the hundreds who have lost their loved ones. Can they ever erase from their memory these days and nights of horror? The notes of the mockingbird will bring to my mind for some time to come another morning when death and a devastating flood swept through Paradise and left destruction and broken hearts in its path.

ITALIAN SUBTERFUGE

When Ambassador Grandi accepted Anthony Eden's resignation as foreign minister, he told parliament he already had Italy's acceptance of Black Shirt troop withdrawal from Spain.

But after publicizing this acceptance, Chamberlain finds that Ambassador Grandi has thrown a lot of technical conditions in the path of acceptance, just as he threw them in front of Norman Davis. For instance, the Italians now want to close the border between France and Spain even before foreign troop withdrawals begin. Meanwhile they would remain free to continue arms shipments by sea to the Spanish insurgents.

Also, Black Shirt troop withdrawals would not begin for two or three months (after study by a commission) and by that time Franco's preponderance of both troops and munitions might make him victorious.

In other words, the Anglo-Italian dickerings are now back at exactly the same place it was when Eden was doing the driving. Only difference is that Chamberlain has removed the gentleman upon whom Mussolini used such vigorous profanity.

"Go on, drop your aitches, can't you?" shouted the director to the English actor, newly arrived in Hollywood.

"I'm supposed to be acting the part of a British peer," argued the Englishman.

"I know that," said the director, "but all you English drop your aitches, don't you?"

"Good gracious, no!" the Englishman responded.

The director pondered a moment and then said, "Well, drop 'em anyhow. The guys on this side expect it!"

DALE
Day
—By—Day
Philosophy

During the campaign of 1932, Herbert Hoover was a notoriously inadequate speaker, dull and unconvincing, but by the time the 1936 campaign rolled around he had become transformed. I remember listening to the talk he delivered during the campaign on the Democratic administration and its method of bookkeeping. It was interesting, humorous, convincing.

One could hardly believe that the same man who spoke in such an unconvincing manner in 1932, Mr. Hoover recently explained this transformation to a friend of mine by saying that he now writes his own speeches. It is difficult—even for an experienced speaker—to read the ideas and phrases of another man and make them sound real and convincing. When you make a speech or write a letter, put yourself into it. Look into your own heart and write; and look into your own heart and speak.

A TALKING DOG

I was a guest on a certain radio program last autumn. There was also a talking dog on the program. He said, "Hello," "How are you?" "I love you" with astonishing accuracy. The broadcast was finished, the woman in charge of the dog brought him out before the audience to have him perform. Naturally, the dog was confused by so many people and by the footlights and strange surroundings, so he refused to perform, and what did his trainer do? She began by saying to him, "How are you?" and "I love you"; but, when he refused to speak, she began to pull his wool and say, "Come on," "Hurry up," "Please talk," "Don't act this way," "Why don't you talk?"

She was making a very human mistake. She was thinking only in terms of what she wanted and not what the dog understood. When she said, "Come on," "Hurry up," "Why don't you talk?" she might as well have been talking in Chinese.

HOW DO YOU DO?

The only words in the world that would possibly get that dog to perform were words such as "How do you do," "I love you" and "Hello," but in her excitement the trainer forgot all about those few words. A lot of us do things just as foolish. We go around talking to dogs and people about what we want instead of talking to them about the things that will cause them to take action.

It seems as if the day of opportunity for the average man hasn't yet passed—not even in Europe. For example, Mussolini, Italy's dictator, the son of a blacksmith, never learned to read and write until he was 15 years old.

Hitter, to whom all German people answer, formerly an humble house painter, is the son of a small town collector of customs. Stalin, of Russia, erstwhile student of theology, is the son of a shoemaker. Yet I meet people almost every day who cry that the day of great opportunity has passed.
